CLIMAX OF CHEST DRIVE FOR $70,000 NEARING

Chest Workers Push Steadily Towards Goal

Expect Big Impetus To Campaign At Noon Meeting On Friday

NO REPORTS MADE IN DRIVE TODAY

Friday Is "Industry Day" In Campaign—Leaders Are Optimistic Of Success

Plugging steadily forward toward its $70,000 objective just as any staunch army would, the Community Chest organization workers kept up its community solicitation today in the belief that by its fourth report meeting in the First Christian church at noon on Friday the drive total of $37,434.25 will be swelled to a far more impressive figure.

The workers made no report today. It was the first day report sessions have been missed since the drive formally opened Monday.

Bent upon subscribing $70,000, or the nearest figure to it, the teams went forth bearing a message of community good which the nine participating Chest agencies do. Like a loyal army, too, the campaign unit isn't admitting that victory can't be won—nor thinking that.

Drive Cannot Fail

Speakers at the three report sessions so far told them, in different words, that "this drive cannot

Will Give Cash Prizes For Hallowe'en Paraders

All prizes awarded in the Hallowe'en parade to be held Saturday night, October 30, will be in cash, General Chairman Edward Haimes announced today.

The prize committee is now gathering the money for the awards and instead of purchasing merchandise with the money the judges will hand it over to the mummers.

"We believe it will save time and energy,' said Mr. Haimes. "Winners can do what they please with the money whereas a merchandise prize might be something the winner could not use. It will also obviate the necessity of getting a room where the prize winners could convert their award slips for the prizes."

The grand prize will be $25 in cash. This prize will be given for the best costume in line on the night of the parade, the judges committee being the sole authority as to which costume is the best. Other prizes ranging from ten dollars on down to one dollar will be awarded and with this cash inducement the probabilities are that the crowd of mummers will exceed anything of a similar nature in years.

The Hallowe'en celebration is being sponsored by the Retail Merchants association. DeLace Cole is the grand marshal of the parade and expects to name his divisional marshals and aides before the end of the week.

Rural Teachers In Session Today

Annual Institute Meeting Is Being Conducted In Union High School

HEAR ADDRESSES BY EDUCATORS

Teachers of the county schools are in session today in Union High school for their annual institute meeting, the meeting having opened this morning and will last through the afternoon.

Devotionals were conducted at the opening session this morning by Rev. D. L. Ferguson, the principal addresses being given by County Superintendent John C. Syling, Dr. Robert Williams, of Ohio Northern University, and Dr. Albert K. Fretwell, of Columbia University.

The P. S. E. A. meeting, which was to have taken place prior to the noon recess was postponed until this afternoon, when election of officers will take place.

Liquor Board Employes Will Seek Increase

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—Liquor board employes from several sections of the state will meet Sunday at the Penn-Harris hotel in Harrisburg to plan a campaign for higher wages, Michael J. Frye, representative of the C.O affiliated state, county and municipal workers of America, announced here today. Frye charged liquor board employes do not receive more pay with promotions and that it is exceedingly difficult for them to obtain time off as compensation for working overtime.

Teachers Meet Here On Friday

Four Thousand From Seven Western Pennsylvania Counties Coming

All arrangements for the sixth annual convention of the mid-western section, Pennsylvania State Education Association are made, according to Dr. C. C. Green, who is the general chairman of the convention which takes place Friday in the Cathedral.

Some 4,000 teachers from seven Western Pennsylvania counties will meet here to hear addresses from a number of outstanding educators. Officers will be elected for the coming year, several luncheons and dinners are planned and the indications point to a successful educational meet.

The first general session of the convention will be in the Cathedral auditorium at 10 o'clock in the morning. In the afternoon there will be various sectional meetings and in the evening the final general session will be held.

Heavy Trading In Market Today

Stock Market Continues Recovery In Transactions Of Morning

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The stock market continued its recovery today from the collapse at the start of the week but the speed of the advance was slowed by waves of profit-taking. Early gains ran from $1 to $2 a share in leaders, and as much as $8 in individual issues, but were cut down later and in a number of cases replaced by losses.

Trading was again at a furious pace. Blocks running to 7,000 shares appeared in the early dealings. The ticker quickly fell behind and trailed by six minutes during the forenoon before it began to catch up.

Foreign markets provided an important stimulus by pronounced strength. American and Domestic issues scored wide gains in London, Amsterdam and Paris. The Italian concession on Spain was an influence in its easing of the Mediterranean crisis.

City To Buy Lots In Highway Route

City of New Castle, at a meeting of council this morning at city hall agreed to buy from Leo Fornataro and Andy Nocera, five lots in Neal street required for a new highway at a cost of $1,192. The motion to buy, upon delivery of the deed, was offered by Councilman James L. Fink. The city proposes to make a route eastward from Grove street, through Neal street, thence to Taylor street, into Butler avenue extension to East Washington street.

Police Hunt Body Of Ross

Believe That Kidnapers Have Killed Charles Ross And Hidden His Body

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Police spread a wide search through suburban Elmwood Park today for the body of Charles S. Ross, kidnaped for $50,000 ransom nearly four weeks ago.

The hunt began after a young law student reported hearing two shots in a "mystery" automobile on the night Ross was kidnaped.

The story was told by Richard Malone, 20, who lives in the suburbs. He said he had tried to follow the car but became outdistanced when the driver sped up, apparently upon realizing he was being followed.

As described by Malone the car resembled that of the one used by the Ross kidnapers.

Ideal To Hide Body

The thinly settled district was regarded as an ideal place to hide a body, if indeed, Ross had been killed there. Both federal investigators and state's attorney's police were virtually convinced that the 72-year-old victim is already dead and that his wife was duped into paying the $50,000 for his release.

A number of other reports poured in on investigation headquarters during the day, but most of them were proven worthless within a short time.

Repudiates His Confession In Death Of Girl

John William Campbell Says Now, That He Did Not Kill Louise Hornbeck In Grafton

IS LODGED IN GRAFTON JAIL

(International News Service)

MARSHALL, Mich., Oct. 21.—Hitch-hiker John William Campbell, 19, was in Grafton, Ohio, under heavy guard today after he repudiated the confession that he attacked and killed Louise Hornbeck in the Ohio village.

He confessed the killing after his arrest here Tuesday, but repudiated the confession before Sheriff William F. Grall began the trip back to Ohio with him yesterday.

"Everyone said I killed her so I made up the story," he said shortly before Grall took him into custody. He said he knew nothing of the case until he was questioned by Sheriff Perl J. Kelley following his arrest.

Never In Grafton

He said he had never been in the village in which the 19-year-old high school girl was slain.

Officials learned the youth spent a full year in the Jacksonville, Ill., asylum.

Grall said he doubted the confession, but would check all phases of it before releasing Campbell. If the youth is released by Ohio authorities he will be returned here to face charges of attempting to attack the 15-year-old daughter of a local businessman.

Instruments Of Wrecked Plane Being Examined

(International News Service)

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, Oct. 21.—From a battered set of instruments, airline and department of commerce officials today were attempting to determine the cause of the tragic United Airliner crash Sunday night in northeastern Utah with a toll of 19 lives.

When the analysis is complete some time this afternoon, Major R. W. Schroeder, operations chief of the United Airlines and formerly chief investigator for the department of commerce, expects to make a public detailed explanation of the crash.

Just what he will say depends on further scrutiny today of the instruments in the plane, which were brought here from Knight, Wyo., late last night.

Missionary Centennial Will Be Observed Here; Program Next Tuesday

Shenango Presbytery and Presbyterial of the Presbyterian church are preparing for the observance of the centennial of foreign missionary work of the denomination, along with members of the denomination throughout the nation.

The local observance will take place on Tuesday evening of next week, October 26, at the First Presbyterian church in New Castle. Featuring the program of the evening, which opens at 8 o'clock, will be presentation of a pageant, depicting the 100 years history of missionary effort, which is to be given in five parts. Representatives of Presbytery and the Presbyterial in large numbers, including New Castle, New Wilmington, Westfield, Ellwood City, Sharon and other parts of the district, will take part.

Final rehearsal of the pageant takes place tonight at the First church. The presentation to be given is "With Cross and Crown in Every L nd", and is in part a duplicate of the pageant presented at the last Presbyterian General Assembly at Columbus, O.

Women of all of the Missionary societies of the Presbyterial are planning to attend in large numbers, as the centennial celebration is one of the historic milestones in the progress of the work. Likewise, ministers of the Presbytery, many of whom will have a part in the pageant program, forecast unusual interest in the event on the part of the congregations in general.

In addition to the pageant, an address will be made during the evening by Dr. J. L. Dodds, secretary of the foreign mission board of the Presbyterian church.

Report Moscow Expels Italians

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Oct. 21.—Threats of a serious diplomatic altercation between Soviet Russia and Italy, with a possibility Germany may be involved, were seen today as the Moscow regime expelled or imprisoned hundreds of Italians throughout the U. S. S. R.

In so doing, it was revealed, Soviet Russia has torn up a reciprocal treaty with Fascist Italy under which Italian and Russian citizens have for years been allowed to work in each others countries without expulsion or discrimination.

Break Ground For New Church

First Hungarian Baptist Church Being Erected On Cunningham Avenue

Ground has been broken at 1213 Cunningham avenue for the new First Hungarian Baptist church, and the work of constructing the foundation for the new edifice is under way. The formal ground breaking took place Tuesday, October 19.

In size the new church will be 28 by 50, built of brick. The materials for the building will cost approximately $5000, and the labor will be contributed by the men of the church, according to Rev. Stephen Revak, pastor.

Some years ago the congregation had a church on East Reynolds street but through economic circumstances lost it. It is hoped that this new church will wipe out the memory of the former one.

The pastor and members of the congregation have appreciated the many fine aids given the church in getting the materials necessary for the construction.

Will Start Work On Surfacing Of Airport Runways

Word was received today at noon by the Works Progress Administration that the amesite speader to be used on the new airport at Parkstown Corners will be here on Monday, October 25. Work of spreading the amesite on the runways will start immediately upon the arrival of the spreader.

The machine can spread approximately 350 tons of amesite per day and with good weather prevailing the covering will be on within a short time. Six thousand tons of amesite will be used.

Chinese Troops Hold Firm During 48 Hour Attack On Defenses

(BULLETIN)
(International News Service)

SHANGHAI, Oct. 21.—Smashing forward recklessly, Chinese troops late today launched a desperate counter-attack against Japanese forces which have been seeking to crack the defending "Hindenburg line" and capture Tachang, north of Shanghai.

The counter-drive began at 4 p. m., and several hours later, after fierce, sacrificial fighting, the issue was still in doubt. The Chinese advance was ordered after the Nipponese flanking maneuver toward Tachang had been halted in its tracks.

Meanwhile, Chinese quarters predicted the Japanese would renew their determined attempts to gain control of Taching and force the Chinese defenders from the Chapei and Kiangwan aras of Shanghai bfore the nine-power Brussels conference on the Sino-Japanese conflict opens Oct. 30

Japan Ponders Invitation To Coming Parley

(International News Service)

TOKYO, Oct. 21—The invitation to the Brussels nine-power conference on the far eastern war, which Japan has been hoping and angling for, finally was delivered to the government today and taken under consideration.

The Belgian ambassador to Tokyo handed the invitation to the foreign office, where a spokesman announced a study of the Agenda would be necessary before Japan could declare her intention of attending the conference or remaining away.

It was generally believed here the government would decline the invitation.

London, Oct. 21—Italy will participate in the forthcoming Brussels-nine-power conference on the Sino-Japanese war, British official circles were informed today, according to reliable reports.

The years make changes I have found, in temperament and things to do, in modes of living, modes of play, and seeking brand new things to do. But there are some things just the same, as in the days of old I ween, and one of these is prankish tricks played on the folks on Hallowe'en. They still tear fences from their roots, they still break windows now and then, these were the sports of long ago, by boys who long ago were men. The tick tack on the window pane, the mask that makes one blithe and gay, they're old, they're new, they're just the same, the weather's sixty-one today.

Daughters Testify In Father's Defense

Media Man On Trial For Arson

Commonwealth Charges Attempt Made To Burn Daughters For Insurance

SEVEN WOMEN AND FIVE MEN ON JURY

(International News Service)

MEDIA, Pa., Oct. 21.—Three daughters, whom the commonwealth charges Albert R. Knight, once prosperous oil executive, attempted to burn to death to collect $120,000 insurance, today were prepared to take the stand in their father's defense.

The second day of Knight's trial on charges of arson and attempted murder found the middle-aged defendant confident of acquittal. Seated at counsel table, he was seen often to confer with his eldest daughter, Ruth. His other daughters, Mary and Susan, and a son, David, 15, also were in the Delaware county court chamber.

Firemen testified they found strips of kerosene-soaked paper hanging from rafters in the basement of the Knight home in Lansdowne after the fire there the night of May 28.

John McHugh, Lansdowne volunteer fireman, said there were ashes on the basement floor and a footmark in them. He said he later saw Knight's shoes, soiled by ashes, in his bedroom.

Assistant District Attorney William R. Toal informed the jury of seven women and five men that Knight applied for $230,000 insurance on his children's lives, but insurance companies became suspicious and either denied or canceled some policies.

fail" and today—as on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday—the workers strove mightily to transmit their words into works.

Believing the job will be completed and the fund of 70,000 raised was Mrs. Grace Phillips Johnson, able general chairman of the community drive. With her chief aides, she feels the goal will be reached—even if a little bit late!

Industrial plants will get special recognition at the Friday meeting because it has been proclaimed as "Industry Day." At the luncheon industrial plant leaders will occupy seats at the speakers' table and the large plants will make their reports.

Aid Of Clubs Asked

Support of 38 civic and service groups here was enlisted by drive leaders overnight and the presidents of those organizations called upon to "exert your influence" in behalf of the Chest. It is believed many club members, not reached so far, will be contacted in this way.

Campaign heads reported the response of the club presidents as "very gratifying."

CHINESE TROOPS COUNTER-ATTACK NEAR SHANGHAI

than 48 hours of repeated Japanese attacks aimed at Tachang, a few miles to the north, have not given up an inch of ground, it was stated.

An official communique, however, admitted the defending forces suffered enormous casualties, but stated equally heavy losses were inflicted on the invaders.

While Chinese counter-attacks hammered at a Nipponese salient south of Wentsao Creek, a Chinese officer sent back a message to headquarters saying:

"Only an earthquake or tidal wave can drive us out."

Attack Checked

As a result, the Japanese effort to engineer an attack against the rear of the Chinese defenses in Chapei and Kiangwan appeared to have been checked.

Meanwhile, Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander of the United States Asiatic fleet, sent a message of regret to Italian naval authorities here after the stern of the stern of the American army transport Chaumont, loaded with American refugees bound for Japan, swung into the Italian cruiser Raimondo Cuccoli as she was leaving Shanghai harbor. The cruiser was slightly damaged on the side.

In the south, according to Japanese Hong Kong advices, the Canton government raised the Chinese blockade of the Canton river owing to breakdown of overland transport of war supplies.

Chinese reports from Canton said four Japanese planes machine gunned a passenger train near Shekluang, but caused no casualties. Later the planes bombed the railroad tracks between Wanglik and Sheunping but failed to damage them.

Japanese headquarters reported that their troops on the northern front cross the Liochang river as they advanced toward the south and entered Honan Province.

It was claimed Japanese planes raided Nanchang during the night, bombing and setting fire to the airdrome, airplane factory and military barracks. One Chinese plane was said to have been shot down in an air battle.

In the Shanghai area Chinese planes, retaliating against Japanese air raids on Nanking, Fukow and other points, unleashed seven attacks against the Japanese Yankzepoo positions, starting at least one fire before they were driven off.

Suit Brought Over Unusual Accident

Damages for the loss of his son, Paul A. Truffley, 23, of near Slippery Rock, is sought by the parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Truffley, in an action in trespass on trial in the Butler county courts. Young Truffley with his brother, John Truffley, Jr., and a friend, Russell Carraro, were walking up a hill. Wilmer, Homer and Howard Glenn were coming down in a truck laden with machinery which had been exhibited at the Butler Fair. Some object projecting from the truck, struck and killed Paul A. Chasing the pigskin is all right on a football field, but when city streets are turned into football fields, it's a different matter. Every one likes to see boys and girls enjoy themselves, but playing football on the streets is even more dangerous than roller skating and bicycle riding, as the skaters and cyclists are more likely to be on the lookout for autos, than children who are absorbed in a football game. It is little effort to get to a vacant lot or field in which to play.

Deaths of the Day

Mrs. Willis A. Majors

Mrs. Clara Klingensmith Majors, wife of Willis A. Majors, of 206½ North Mulberry street, passed away at 12:10 p. m. Wednesday in the New Castle hospital.

The deceased was a member of the First Baptist church and had been a resident of New Castle all of her life. She leaves Mr. Major, to whom she was married 18 years ago; three children, Burton, Walter and Margaret; three brothers, Albert, Charles and Andrew Klingensmith, all of this city; three sisters, Mrs. Florence Durben of Ellwood City, Mrs. John R. Turner of Meadville, and Mrs. Esther Taylor of New Castle, and her parents, Joseph and Amanda Burkey Klingensmith, also of this city.

Funeral services will be conducted at the residence Saturday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Browne Funeral Friday.

Funeral services for Mrs. Robert Audley Browne, who died suddenly Wednesday morning at her home in Oil City, will be held from the late residence at 212 West Third street, Oil City, on Friday, October 22 at 2 p. m., it was learned here today.

Officiating will be Dr. A. B. McCormick, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church in Oil City, the church to which Mrs. Browne belonged. Burial will be in Grove Hill cemetery at Oil City.

Mrs. Browne, the former Miss Katherine Fisher, was the wife of the secretary of the Pennzoil company.

John M. Bevan

John Morgan Bevan, aged 56 years, died this morning at 7 o'clock in his home, 901 West Clayton street. His demise followed an illness of long duration and for some weeks past it was known that there was little chance of recovery.

There was no one in Mahoningtown better known than Mr. Bevan. He had been in the real estate and insurance business for years, was secretary and treasurer of the Mahoning Finance and Loan Association with offices on North Liberty street, was just as prominent in church work as he was in business, and was a member of numerous fraternal organizations.

He was one of the most active workers in the Madison Avenue Christian church; he had served as a trustee, an elder, a member of the choir and, until last year, chairman of the board. He will be sadly missed by the congregation, and by all his many friends in this city.

Interested, too, in the ward's advancement as a community, Mr. Bevan was a member of the Seventh Ward Civic club, and for a long time was a member of the Boy Scout troop's advisory committee.

He was a member of the Mahoning Lodge, F. & A. M., the New Castle Consistory, the Knights of the Golden Eagle, the Modern Woodmen of America, and the Knights of Malta.

He was born in Morriston, South Wales, on January 8, 1881, son of Thomas and Emma Morgan Bevan. On August 24, 1914, he married Alice Vance, who survives. Besides his wife, he leaves two sons, Edward V. and John Wayne Bevan, and one daughter, Doris Adele Bevan, at home; one brother, William T. Bevan, of Niles, O.; one sister, Mrs. Elizabeth A. Walters, of Warren, O.; three nephews and two nieces.

Funeral arrangements will be announced later.

Sebastian H. Kelly

Word has been received by Commodore Tilden of the death of his uncle, Sebastian H. Kelly, which occurred at his home, Washington avenue, Atlantic City, Wednesday evening at 6:45.

Mr. Kelly had resided there with his daughter Lyda, and nieces Rosa and Cora Belle Hill, since leaving New Castle several years ago. He was well and favorably known by the older residents of this city, having operated a barber shop on Jefferson street for many years.

He was born in Pittsburgh in 1852. He married Etta Tilden, daughter of John and Rosa Tilden, and was preceded in death by her many years ago. A son, Walter, died in 1930. Besides his sister at whose home he died, he leaves another sister, Katherine, of Atlantic City; two brothers, John and Charles, of Pittsburgh, and one grandson.

He was always of the Methodist faith. While here he was a member of St. Luke's church and the Odd Fellows Lodge. Funeral arrangements were not announced in the message here, but burial will probably be in Atlantic City.

Funeral Of Mrs. Braden.

Funeral services for Mrs. Selina Braden, highly respected resident of McClelland avenue, were conducted at 2:30 o'clock Wednesday afternoon in the Central Christian church with the pastor, Rev. Thomas B. Shearer, officiating.

During the rites the choir sang two numbers, "Safe in the Arms of Jesus," and "Abide With Me," and Mrs. Shearer sang a solo, "Lead, Kindly Light," with accompaniment by Miss Mary Elizabeth Norris.

Pallbearers were Lewis Mack, James Ickes, Richard Davis, James Davis, Charles Barkley and John McWilliams. Interment was made in Greenwood cemetery.

Members of the Pro Indus club meeting tonight at the Y. M. C. A., will hear Howard L. Reynolds, funeral director as their chief speaker. He is a member of the club.

Don't blame the Japs. They didn't bother anybody till meddling Americans forced them to wake up and start modernizing.

SAYS WHISKEY ADDS HEIGHT TO MOUNTAINEERS

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—Six-feet three may be a pretty fair height for a westerner, but that's only "boy size" in the mountains of West Virginia, according to Mack Reed, lanky mountaineer who was arrested in an Oregon lumber camp for West Virginia authorities.

It's the corn whiskey—co'n—that West Virginia mountaineers drink that puts the height on them, Reed declared.

He was wanted for having in his possession a quantity of that same "co'n" whiskey, and told officials here he "guessed they trailed me clear out here because they don't want to lose the best moonshiner in Virginia."

The lanky southerner said he was never convicted of a crime, but was arrested once for "sledgin' fish". He explained that "sledgin' fish" consisted of wading out in a stream where bass are lying under rocks and hammering on the rock, killing the fish underneath.

LONG WORKING DAY MAKES HIM HAPPY

(International News Service)

PORTLAND, Ore.—Joe Dobing woud rather work 17 hours a day than a mere seven or eight.

He is assistant caretaker of the Vista House, located along the Columbia river highway, where thousands of travelers stop every summer for the view.

Dobing explains his stranger preference for longer hours as follows:

"Time passes fast in the summer time—when I usually work 16 or 17 hours a day. Tourists crowd the building all day and I meet so many interesting people from all parts of the world that days are never dull. But in the winter—I seldom work more than seven or eight hours—the days are long and lonely.

SHAW-ROBINSON NUPTIALS WEDNESDAY

Miss Avis Marie Shaw, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Frank M. Shaw, of East Brook, became the bride of Samuel M. Robinson, Jr. son of Mr. and Mrs. Samuel M. Robinson, Sr. of Edison avenue, at a quiet wedding ceremony on Wednesday afternoon, performed at 2 o'clock, in the parsonage of the East Brook United Presbyterian church. The Rev. Robert E. Douglas, pastor officiated with the impressive single ring service.

The bride was attractive in a stone blue crepe dress, made on tailored lines, street length, with turbin and accessories to harmonize. She wore a shoulder bouquet of tea roses and daisies. As her matron of honor, her sister, Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy, of Ellwood City, was dressed in a dubonnet frock, also patterned street length, with black turban and matching accessories. Her shoulder corsage was of baby yellow mums and roses.

Kenneth Kennedy brother-in-law of the bride, served as best man.

The bride, who is a beautician in Milady Shoppe of this city, is a graduate of Maison Frederic Beauty School in Pittsburgh. She graduated from East Brook High in the class of '33. The groom is a graduate of New Castle high school, in '32 and is manager of the Gilfillan Lumber Company, of this city.

Immediately following the ceremony, Mr. and Mrs. Robinson departed on a short wedding trip.

B. N. W. Club.

Mrs. Arthur Gallagher and Mrs. Edward Hilliard were special guests at the B. N. W. club meeting Wednesday evening. Mrs. Arthur Gray, Neshannock avenue, was hostess to the club.

Bridge was the feature of the evening with Mrs. Elmer Giering and Mrs. Arthur Gallagher capturing the prizes. The hostess, aided by her daughter Phyllis, served a delicious lunch.

November 10, the group will meet at the Englewood avenue home of Mrs. Arthur Hawk.

CONSERVATION GROUP LUNCHEON GUESTS

A prettily appointed one o'clock luncheon, served at a popular tea room downtown on Wednesday afternoon, was enjoyed by members of the Conservation Department of the Woman's club, with Mrs. Ray Horchler, presiding in the role of hostess, aided by her officers.

Fall decorations were used in all details, and flowers of the season were used in profusion. Miss Harriet Chapman was a special guest. A delicious menu was served, and immediately following, a business period was conducted with Mrs. Horchler, chairman, in charge.

Two papers were given at this time, the first on "Bird Migration" by Mrs. W. A. Pond. The second article on "Mariuana Weed" was contributed by Mrs. W. C. DeArment. A discussion ensued.

Mrs. E. F. Henderson, Lincoln avenue, will receive the group on November 17.

REVEAL ENGAGEMENT AT MASQUERADE

Upon drawing a streamer from a pumpkin, guests at a masquerade party recently were informed of the engagement of Esther McCue and David Wheale. The party was given by Mrs. Nora McCue and Mrs. D. C. Wheale, at the former's home, on Beckford street.

The evening was spent in playing Hallowe'en games and music.

Lunch was served by the hostesses, assisted by Mrs. Alice Mackey and Mrs. M. Connerly.

Miss McCue is the daughter of Mrs. Nora McCue, of 820 Beckford street, and Mr. Wheale is the son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Wheale, of New Wilmington. The couple will be married on November 24.

Birthday Club.

Miss Edith Carnes of Warren avenue will entertain members of the Birthday club at a dinner on Saturday, October 23.

MISSIONARY CABINET OPENS FALL SEASON

Wednesday afternoon, the Missionary Cabinet, of the First Presbyterian church, held their first fall meeting at the home of Mrs. Henry Golder, of 317 Winter avenue.

At the business meeting, plans were made for a turkey dinner to be held at the church on December 10. Committees appointed were: general chairman, Mrs. Henry Golder; kitchen, Mrs. A. B. Foster; dining room, Mrs. W. D. Cleland; publicity, Mrs. Orville Brown; booster, Mrs. Samuel Perry; reservations, Mrs. Robert McGill; general treasurer, Mrs. Robert McBurney; entertainment, Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine.

Sunday evening, November 21, was selected for the praise service for all missionary societies. Those in charge of this are Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine, Mrs. Charles Moore, and Mrs. S. S. Brenneman.

After the meeting, Mrs. Golder served tea. She was assisted by Mrs. J. K. Furst and Mrs. A. B. Fankhouser. Mrs. J. J. McIlvaine poured.

KID PARTY FEATURES T. O. T. CLUB MEETING

Wednesday evening members of the T. O. T. club set some kind of a precedent with one of the most enjoyable Hallowe'en celebrations in years. The occasion was held at the home of Miss Coletta Priesel, 622 Etna street. The affair was in the form of a "Kid" party.

Hazel Parks, Coletta Priesel and Katherine Ritchie gave one the impression that little girls clean up on Sunday just for the fun of getting dirty. Nellie Campbell, Rose Ritchie and Lue Hartzell were attired as the sort of shy and modest type of youngsters. Thelma Cramer defied all beach rules by appearing in a snappy bathing suit. Miss Goldie Householder wore a "tomboy outfit. She won the prize for the best costume. Games were the popular pastime, prizes going to Louella Hartzell, Nellie Campbell, Kay Ritchie and Goldie Householder. At an appointed time delicious refreshments were served. Miss Josephine McMillan was a special guest.

In two weeks Miss Kay Ritchie of Canyon street will entertain.

SILVER ANNIVERSARY AT FLICK RESIDENCE

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Flick, of Park avenue, were hosts to members of the N. C. T. club Wednesday evening at a 6:30 o'clock dinner in observance of their silver wedding anniversary.

Covers were laid for ten at an attractively decorated table. A beautiful wedding cake formed the centerpiece.

Cards were the chief pastime with Mrs. Earl Keefer, of Sharon and Mrs. Carl Turner receiving the prizes. Special guests were Mrs. Stanley Currier, of Sharon and Mrs. Zollars, of Waynesburg.

The club members presented Mr. and Mrs. Flick with a beautiful gift. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Carl Turner.

SPEAKER FEATURES HADASSAH SILVER TEA

With Mrs. Leonard Groden in the chair, Hadassah's Silver Jubilee membership tea proved a fine success on Wednesday evening, taking place in the Temple Israel social rooms. Mrs. Jack Conn read the invocation.

A delightful program was launched by community singing of "Sholom Alechem" (Peace Be With You) with Mrs. Groden at the piano. Sam Edelstein followed, with a short report on the Jewish National Fund Raising conference held in Detroit, October 10. At this point, Mrs. Groden turned the meeting over to Mrs. R. Rubenson, membership chairman, who introduced the speaker of the evening, Miss Miriam R. Ephraim of Pittsburgh.

Miss Ephraim spoke of the significance of the Hadassah program on Jewish life in America, and she stressed the fact, that "Although Hadassah calls for much effort and sacrifice on the part of those who work for it, we receive more than we give." To quote a beautiful thought expressed by her, was, "Hadassah is more than an organization—it is a way of life, for Jewish women."

A short recess was declared by Mrs. Rubenson following this inspirational speech, when new members were given an opportunity to sign their names. Twelve were added to the roster, including, Mrs. Ethel Walls, Mrs. Jack Adelson, Mrs. L. Berkey, Mrs. A. Routman, Mrs. Harry Friedman, Mrs. R. Tamers, Mrs. Harry Greenberg, Mrs. Rose Abrams, Mrs. Julius Markley, Mrs. S. Skole, Mrs. Ed. Fisher and Mrs. J. Frank.

Mrs. Rubenson's committee, responsible for such an excellent function, was made up of the following: Chairman, Mrs. Rubenson, Mrs. L. Zieve, vice chairman; aides, Mrs. Louis Kohn, Mrs. William Blau, Mrs. Nathan Love, Mrs. Abe Fisher, Mrs. Leonard Reinhart, Mrs. Florence Moresky and Mrs. Harry Klivans.

Mrs. Groden conducted a moment of silence in honor of the memories of Mrs. Mervis, a charter member of the local organization, and Felix Warburg, who was a great benefactor of Hadassah.

Mrs. Samuel Edelstein, educational chairman, gave a short talk afterwards on interesting current events.

A delightful social hour concluded festivities, when refreshments were served by the hostesses, from a table attractively decorated in a theme of blue and white. A large number were in attendance.

MRS. EDWARD DARROW HONORED BY SHOWER

At Wednesday evening's meeting of the Protected Home Circle in the I. O. O. F. hall a member of the degree team, Mrs. Edward Darrow, the former Miss Esther McHattie of Ellwood City, was presented with a shower of gifts. She is a recent bride.

The members enjoyed a period of card playing and bingo, prizes going to Mrs. Belle Kennedy and Mrs. Grace Hoover. The guardian, Mrs. Helen Ray, and her committee, served a lunch.

Special guests were Ivan Ishman of Sharon, Mr. and Mrs. Bert Mitchell and Mr. and Mrs. Anderson, of Beaver Falls.

Wednesday Quilting Club

A delicious dinner was served to members of the Wednesday Quilting club at the home of Mrs. Ollie Evans, of Pearson street, on Wednesday. Covers were laid for ten.

The afternoon hours were spent in playing bingo with Mrs. E. Blaine and Mrs. Alice White winning the prizes.

The next club meeting will be held November 17 at the home of Mrs. Charles Kenehan, of Federal street.

V. F. W. Auxiliary

This evening the Ladies Auxiliary to the V. F. W., will meet in regular session at their usual place. A card party will follow the business routine for members and friends, with Mrs. Nell Nowling presiding in the role of hostess.

SIXTY ATTEND DINNER EVENT OF FORT EUREKA

Fort Eureka, No. 45 American Home Watchmen, had dinner in McGoun hall Tuesday evening at 6:30 o'clock and for guests there were three automobile-loads of people from the forts of Oil City, Franklin and other parts of the district.

An honor guest was Supreme Commander Berlyn K. Sanborn, of Avis, Pa.

For the delicious tureen dinner places were set for 60.

The following new officers were formally installed: Commander Mrs. Maud Thompson; vice commander, Mrs. Marie Dart; chaplain, Mrs. Blanche Lewis; inside guard, Mrs. Eva Mae Hibberd; patrol, Mrs. Marie Pence; secretary, Mrs. Tillie Lewis, treasurer, Mrs. Mary Osler, and past commander, Mrs. Mary Gross.

On the dinner committee were the Mesdames Tillie Lewis, Maud Thompson, Blanche Lewis, Marie Dart, Eva Mae Hibberd and Mary Osler, assisted by Mrs. Mary Gross, and to them goes much credit for a delightful evening. After the dinner and installation the crowd of guests enjoyed square dancing in the hall, music being provided by an orchestra.

HOME ECONOMICS CLUB IS FORMED

A new club has been formed, that will be identified as the Home Economics Club, composed of alumni girls of the New Castle High school. Miss Winifred Hickling was elected president at their meeting conducted Wednesday evening in the school rooms, and she will have aiding her, the following officers: vice president, Miss Ruth Nene; treasurer, Miss Dorothy Pugh; secretary, Miss Thelma Mills.

The instructress, Mrs. Thomas Sadler, the former Viola Healey, who gave a short address in reference to their work, was tendered a surprise, when presented with a lovely shower gift in behalf of those gathered.

Mrs. Sadler will be in charge of their meetings, the second to take place on Wednesday, November 3, at 7:30 o'clock in the evening at the local high school.

A short social period followed, when refreshments were served.

W. B. A. 98 RALLY AT MALTA HALL

The annual rally of the Women's Benefit Association, Review 98, was held in the Malta hall on East Washington street, Wednesday evening. Mrs. C. Jones, captain of the guard of Ellwood City, responded to the welcome given by Mrs. Margaret Logan, local captain of the guards. There were ten candidates initiated into the lodge.

Visitors were present from Knox, Zelienople, Butler, Ellwood City and the local order. Mrs. Ada R. Stone of Butler, the managing deputy, was a special guest.

Club flowers were used in the decoration of the hall, making an attractive setting for the floor work presented by the Ellwood City team.

The Hallowe'en motif was also carried out in the lunch. This committee was composed of Mrs. Mattie Turner, Mrs. Charlotte McCullough and Mrs. Margaret Sherbine.

CLUB PLANNING HALLOWE'EN PARTY

Members of the S. S. Bridge club are planning a Hallowe'en party, with husbands as guests, for Thursday, October 28, at the home of Mrs. Ralph Baker, Delaware avenue.

The club met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Alfred Hyde, North Cedar street. Bridge was the diversion of the evening with high score prizes going to Mrs. Ira Landis and Mrs. William Ellis. Mrs. Everett Brest was awarded the galloping trophy. A Hallowe'en lunch was served by the hostess.

Mrs. Landis will entertain the club at their next regular meeting on Friday, November 5, at her home on Laurel avenue.

D. O. F. Club

Members of the D. O. F. club showered Mrs. Mary Lalamo with many lovely handkerchiefs in honor of her birthday anniversary when they met for their regular meeting at the home of Mrs. Hilda Camuso, Jefferson street, Wednesday evening.

During the business meeting, a Hallowe'en party was planned for Thursday, October 28, at the home of Mrs. Margaret Pearl, Galbreath avenue. Friends of members will be guests at this party.

Mrs. Blanche Pearl was admitted to the club as a new member. Mrs. Josephine Smolinski and Miss Agnes Regna were special guests.

Prizes for various games went to Mrs. Judy Covert. Mrs. Fay Veri captured the club token. Aided by Mrs. Smolinski and Miss Regna, the hostess served a delicious lunch at a table decorated in Hallowe'en colors.

Mrs. Rosemary Roth, Electric street, invited the club to meet at her home on November 3.

G. O. F. Club.

G. O. F. club members met Wednesday evening at the home of Mrs. Rocco Monaco, Matilda avenue.

Cards, sewing and chat were the diversions. A comic Hallowe'en sketch was given by Mrs. W. Pasquarella and Mrs. M. Manos. Club prize was awarded to Mrs. Mike Manos and the card prize was awarded to Mrs. Andrew Nocera. At a suitable hour the group was ushered into the dining room, which was attractively decorated in orange and black tones, and a delicious lunch was served. Mrs. A. Nocera assisted the hostess in serving.

November 3 the club will meet with Mrs. Mike Manos, Reynolds street.

1923 S. L. Club.

Mrs. P. Capitola and Mrs. Bert Sullivan were high score winners at the 1923 S. L. club meeting Wednesday evening when Mrs. Charles Dean of East Washington street entertained. A delicious lunch was served in the dining room by the hostess.

November 3, Mrs. Dennis Donegan, Leasure avenue, will entertain the group.

FRIENDLY SISTERS PLAN ANNIVERSARY

Plans were made for the anniversary dinner of the Friendly Sisters Quilting club at their meeting Wednesday in the home of Mrs. Maude Coulter on Hamilton street. It will be held Wednesday, October 27, at 1 o'clock at a local tea room. Cards will be played after the dinner.

Wednesday's meeting was an all day quilting. At 12:30 o'clock the hostess, aided by her daughter Mildred, served a delicious dinner.

The president, Mrs. Martha Morse, had charge of the business meeting. The annual exchange of gifts also took place at this meeting.

Mrs. D. Fenton Hostess

Mrs. David Fenton, Kathryn street, was a pleasing hostess Wednesday evening to members of the Canter Bridge club. Card playing provided the pastime with attractive prizes falling to Mrs. William Boyd and Mrs. C. E. Kennedy. In serving lunch at a late hour, the hostess was aided by Mrs. Alfred Mann and Mrs. Boyd.

The next meeting will take place on Wednesday, November 10.

STATE INCOME TAX POSSIBILITIES

AT THE November election, voters of Pennsylvania will make a decision on the matter of an amendment that would provide for the levying of a graded income tax in the state. Discussing the proposal under the heading, "An Open Door To Tax Discrimination" The Philadelphia Inquirer points out a number of possibilities contained in the situation that should arouse the interest of all voters in the state. The Inquirer says:

In order to vote intelligently upon the proposed constitutional amendment removing present requirements for uniformity of taxation, the people of Pennsylvania should have brought home to them, clearly and forcibly, just what this amendment means, just how it would change our tax laws, precisely what its consequences might be.

Its advocates stress the argument that it would clear the way for a graded income tax, the proceeds of which would be used for the relief of school districts. It has already been pointed out that there is nothing in the amendment assuring the appropriation of so much as a dollar to the schools, that the allotment of income tax revenue would be up to the legislature alone.

It is important, moreover, that voters realize that the amendment is not specifically an authorization for a graded tax on incomes. It goes far beyond that single objective. It opens the way to widespread tax exemptions that conceivably might be grossly misused by political legislators at Harrisburg.

The Constitution now provides: "All taxes shall be uniform upon the same class of subjects, within the territorial limits of the authority levying the tax, and shall be levied and collected under general laws; but the General Assembly may, by general laws, exempt from taxation public property used for public purposes, actual places of religious worship, places of burial not used or held for private or corporate profit, institutions of purely public charity, and real and personal property owned, occupied and used by any branch, post or camp of honorably discharged soldiers, sailors and marines."

Those stipulations were not accidentally conceived. They were intended to set up safeguards, in the fundamental law of the state, against taxation that could be made an instrument of discrimination or prejudice, while at the same time granting proper exemptions for properties used for public, religious or charitable purposes.

The uniformity provision, it is true, prevents imposition of a graded income tax. As a flat income tax would affect, among others, those least able to pay it, an amendment permitting graduations and exemptions is a perfectly proper proposal. But there is a direct method of legalizing such a tax without throwing the state wide open to all forms of discriminatory tax abuse.

The section quoted above could have added to it, for instance, some such words as these: "Provided, additionally, that uniformity shall not be required in the case of income taxes, which may have graduated rates and exemptions, and the proceeds of which shall be devoted solely toward the reduction of school taxes on real estate.

An amendment thus drawn would authorize a graduated tax on income and would earmark the revenue definitely for school purposes, instead of making it the political plaything of every succeeding session of the Legislature.

The amendment in the form it will be voted upon on November 2 treats the income tax feature as almost incidental. It would merely provide that property taxes be uniform on the same class of subjects, directing that "uniformity shall not be required in the case of income, inheritance, estate and other excise taxes which may be graded or graduated and provide for exemptions." It further would permit exemption from taxation of "a uniform value in money of the total taxable value of each person's property, or of the taxable value of homesteads."

Here is constitutional authority for a very material extension of the Legislature's tax exemption powers. Whether the people of the state want to hand over such powers; whether, present safeguards removed, the way would be opened to discriminatory taxation against certain sections of the state or certain classes of taxables, are matters for the people themselves to decide. But they should vote on the amendment with their eyes open to all its connotations and implications, its possible dangers and disadvantages as well as its possible benefits.

The amendment is not only a graded income tax amendment. It would permit a graded income tax, but it would permit much more. It would make available almost infinite opportunities for using state taxes for discriminatory and oppressive purposes.

The overtaxed people of Pennsylvania should acquaint themselves thoroughly with the serious potentialities of this amendment, in the short time left before election day, so they may have a clear realization of what it means before they vote for or against it.

DUMB DESPERADOES

Desperadoes think they are smart, but actually they are very dumb. Instead of profiting by the sad experiences of their predecessors, they unwisely think they are so clever that they can outwit the law. Sometimes they succeed for a time, but in the end they always lose.

Al Brady, the late public enemy No. 1, and his companion in crime are the latest to go to their graves because they were so stupid as to believe that they could escape forever the clutches of the law.

The G-men were the nemesis of Brady as they were of Dillinger, Pretty Boy Floyd, Baby Face Nelson, Alvin Karpis and others who in recent years terrorized the country with their robberies, kidnapings and murders.

Before the G-men got into action several years ago, gangsters had not so much to fear. When they committed a crime in one state, they fled to another. By changing the scene of their operations, it was difficult for state law enforcement officers to track them down. But, by federal law, the G-men are not bound by state lines. The whole country is their field and they cover it well.

The Brady capture is a good illustration of how gangsters cannot elude the G-men. Brady and his gang worked thruout the middle west, but the FBI officers trapped and killed him in Maine, hundreds of miles away from the states which wanted him for robberies, murders and prison escapes.

But the task of the Federal Bureau of Investigation officers never ends, because there is always someone foolish enough to think he can succeed where Brady, Dillinger, Nelson, Floyd, Karpis and other failed.

Gangsters never seem to learn. But if they were intelligent they wouldn't be gangsters, for they would know that crime never pays. They all meet the same fate, sooner or later—death from an officers bullet or a long sentence in a prison cell.

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

SKILLED LABOR SCARCE

IN MANY places there now is a shortage of skilled labor but an oversupply of employables trained for white collar jobs. This fact raises a most serious problem for the absorption of WPA rolls in regular industry. The relief rolls have contained great numbers of intelligent and capable young people.

Hundreds and hundreds of youths who could find places in industry have preferred to half-starve themselves in order to climb, as they have hoped, into white collar or professional jobs—a field already overcrowded, and offering hardly as much economic security as the skilled industrial jobs and trades.

And our public schools operated on the democratic principle of providing the public with what it wants rather than what it needs, may be partly to blame for this situation.

In Cleveland, for example, 33 per cent of its students in the senior high school are taking commercial courses; 30 per cent are taking academic courses (preparing for college and professional courses); 27 per cent taking technical courses (also pointing toward college and technical courses); 8 per cent taking special courses (most of whom will not graduate); and only 1.7 per cent taking industrial or trade courses fitting them to enter industry as skilled workers.

On the other hand, the U. S. census bureau states that, in Cleveland, the working population classify as follows:

Public service, 2.6 per cent; professions, 6.7 per cent; transportation, 10.6 per cent; domestic service, 11.1 per cent; trade, 17.9 per cent; manufacturing, 48.1 per cent.

Majority Train For Professions

From the foregoing data it appears that about 90 per cent of the high school students of Cleveland are preparing themselves to enter the white collar or professional field, while that field actually engages only 9.3 per cent of the city's working population.

And it might be noted that the large majority of those in the trade schools are there because they failed to show ability at regular book learning; that, moreover, skilled jobs, as a rule, demand about as much intelligence as the white collar jobs, pay as well or better, and offer about as much opportunity for advancement as white collar jobs.

Then there is another side to this problem. If skilled workmen are to enjoy their leisure hours and have something to think about even while they work, it is not well for them to learn at school from books what they would not learn on the job? Shouldn't a good education give our children what they would not get otherwise?

SECOND WIND

Just when you think you can't run another step, something happens. The pain in your side goes away, new strength comes to take its place, you feel as if you could run for hours.

You were ready to, but, and you would not quit, if you hadn't caught your Second Wind—if that mysterious source of new strength hadn't been opened to you.

I don't know what that Second Wind is and no doctor has been able to explain it to me. They tell me it's your spleen that hurts when you run and the Greeks knew that, 22 centuries ago, and used to cut out the spleen in their distance runners so they wouldn't be troubled.

People who work at night have noticed that they pass through a period of fatigue and come suddenly into a period when they feel refreshed and keen and able to solve any problem and work untired for hours. There must be a Second Wind in the brain that is beyond our understanding.

Efficiency experts who have studied factory workers say that their period of greatest efficiency is NOT in the early morning hours when they are fresh and strong but late in the afternoon when they are more physically tired. Something in the nerves and body catches a Second Wind.

And sometimes we seem to have a Second Wind of the spirit. . . . We are weary and ve doubt ourselves. We fear we will have to give up. We are sorr' for ourselves and only Pride and Stubbornness keep us going. We say we don't care WHAT people think—there's a limit to human endurance and we've reached it.

But something happens. For no "good" reason suddenly we are cheerful again. We feel strong enough to make another try. The little things don't annoy us any more. The burden is no lighter but we are big enough to carry it. We do not know how it happened, but we know that it did happen and we are glad. We have caught our Second Wind at last and we are on our way again. Nobody knew how close we were to failure—and WE won't tell!

PARKING CAUSES CONGESTION

Every traffic expert knows the chief cause of traffic congestion, but they're afraid to mention it. Costly studies are made and paid for, and millions of dollars are spent for widening old, and building new streets. Meanwhile an effective remedy remains unused.

This remedy is the abolition of parking in congested areas.

It seems that nobody cares to know the truth about parking, but John A. Miller made some estimates for an article he wrote for the Review of Reviews. He figured that free parking for the customers of a store occupying 100 feet of frontage on a thoroughfare might be a convenience for 120 customers per day. So that these few people may be convenienced, thousands are inconvenienced. Yet merchants insist that the parking privilege be retained. As buyers of large space, they intimidate the newspapermen into silence on the matter, and the newspapers in turn intimidate the public officials.

Nowhere, except in the Chicago Loop, according to Mr. Miller, has the parking problem been boldly attacked. In the Loop parking is forbidden. Merchants who moaned before the ban was applied, are now pleased.

Another difficulty in the parking problem is the automobile owner. As a free American, he thinks he owns the streets and it is his inalienable right to park his car when and where he pleases. We're a funny people that way.

Reg. U. S. Patent Office

By Francine Markel

Dear Miss Markel: I am a business girl 25 years old, invited to an out-of-town college dance. Since there is no one in town with whom I might spend the night, I must stay at a hotel. While I wish to do the conventional thing, I should feel rather silly, at my age, bringing a chaperon along, especially since my parents are dead and I live alone. I know two other girls who will attend also. Who do you think?
BACHELOR GIRL.

Answer: Several years ago, it would have been shocking for a girl to go unchaperoned to remain in another town all night. It would have been equally shocking for a girl to live alone. And it is still so in the case of a young irresponsible girl. But a young woman of your age, forced to live alone, need have no qualms about these problems. If possible, room with one of the girls whom you know, preferably the one who has the best reputation among her elders.

Plant Manager Speaks Mind.
Is Pessimistic Over Future.
All People Have Problems.

By LESLIE EICHEL
Central Press Columnist

LISTEN TO a manager of a fair-sized manufacturing plant:

"Perhaps I am unduly pessimistic. I do not know where I a m going to find the money to go through next year.

"Three unions are negotiating for advances. Their claims will be adjusted by arbitrators. They will point to the cost of living—justifiably—and may obtain increases.

"I can see both sides. Naturally, I am more greatly concerned with the management's side. I have to be—otherwise there would be no payrolls. Yet I can see both sides. And I am wondering as to the future of each.

"When a product costs more than it will bring or when its cost restricts its purchase to a narrowing group, then it forfeits its right to existence."

* * *

PRODUCTS NEEDED

"But products are needed. That is, worthwhile products. The spurious ought to disappear. The millions of underprivileged persons could gain most if their purchasing power and the cost of the products they needed met.

"Now, of course, it is essential that persons receive wages which permit a good standard of living. And it is equally essential that purchasing power be spread out to all persons able and willing to work.

"But it is just as essential that prices be permitted to seek a level unstimulated by efforts to maintain 'good prices'. No price is good if it shuts out millions of persons and requires inflationary methods to keep it up.

"We today suffer from a situation, not altogether unique when the true flow of economics is dammed; when water is forced to run upstream; when the stream above the dam overflows, while the stream below the dam runs dry.

"We have heavy pressure up above, constantly requiring additional support as the water below the dam runs out.

"We have workers requiring more and more pay to meet higher costs. We, the employers, ourselves have constantly mounting costs.

"And all the costs added together are adding more and more depressing pressure.

"Large figures are quoted as gross earnings—but where are the net earnings?

"And are any more people at work—and are goods being consumed in the large quantities they should be?"

* * *

FOR PLANNED ECONOMY

"Please understand me correctly—I am for planned economy, and I am for social progress. But I am NOT for artificial stimulation.

"I realize that world conditions—wars and tariffs and embargoes and monetary restrictions — are stopping the flow of commerce. I realize that commerce — trade—is wealth, that without it we can exist only with stimulants, and then merely momentarily.

"But I believe that we should plan our internal economy so that what we do have to work with will spread out over the greatest number. Otherwise, we shall have the impasse now approaching of the spread constantly contracting. Thus fewer and fewer benefit. Eventually plants will close.

"And prices, regardless of all efforts, will crash—in an wholly unplanned manner, bringing destruction to many. I do not consider the recent plunge of security and commodity prices as the beginning of that crash. We probably shall have a rise again. But somewhere, sometime, there will be a breaking of that dam which I was discussing previously—and all the water will run out and be soaked up into the parched land below without a trace. That will benefit nobody."

* * *

CO-OPERATIVE EFFORT

"I differ from many of my fellow managers in that I believe we must adopt co-operative ventures. I should go a long way toward socialism to save capitalism.

"I believe, too, that the international competitive system of capitalism will have to give way to state interchange of goods. I should go even further — I should throw open raw resource lands for international development and international use. This is not a matter of idealism but of self-preservation. Unless we remove such causes for wars, we shall have neither business nor nation.

"In the meantime, I shall carry on, the best I know how, trying to make ends meet—and trying to maintain folk at work at a wage sufficient to keep worry from their door. My task, however, is an unenviable one. I am caught between two forces—but two forces whose interests, I am sure, will be the same in the end."

TWO VIEWS

Two men there were—let's call them
Jim and Joe—
'Tis merely their philosophies I'd show.
Jim looked on friendship as a useful thing;
An aid to serve him in a time of need.
"Why woo the subject when the mighty king
Has more to give?" was oft his spoken creed.
"Why take the poor man when the richer friend
Would never borrow but would always lend?

"Pass up these common fellows near your door.
You'll find you have to help them more and more.
What if they do assist you now and then?
Before the year is ended you will learn
They'll all be tapping at your door again
Wanting some larger favor in return.
Friendship would be an asset, not a drain;
Not help to give, but help you want to gain.'

Joe heard him through and answered at the end:
"That makes a man a 'sponge' and not a friend.
You go your way and fawn upon the great
And when you've lost your manhood and your pride
You'll be the flabby thing that all men hate
Belittled scorned and coldly thrust aside.
Who'd share another's joys should also share
With willing heart the burdens he must bear.

THURSDAY, OCT 21

ONCE UPON OCT. 21—When electricity was first employed as a method of illumination the lights were crude affairs that used sticks of carbon, somewhat in the manner of the street "arc" light still found in some towns. These created heat and sparks and was not suitable for home use.

Numerous experimenters set to work in the Seventies to produce an incandescent lamp that could be employed safely in the home. The result was a notable discovery made virtually simultaneously by two different men experimenting in ignorance of each other's progress.

Such simultaneous discoveries by men working independently, have been frequent in history. Bell and Gray devised telephones at the same time and applied for patents the same day. Bessemer in England and Kelly in America, found the process of converting iron into steel simultaneously.

Edison established his claim to the invention of the incandescent lamp first, after having made his first lamp 58 years ago today, Oct. 21, 1879. Consequently, there is no mention in school histories of J. W. Swan, who produced a similar lamp at about the same time.

That first lamp of Edison's cost him, in addition to his time and efforts, $40,000.

On Other Oct. 21sts: 1797—U. S. S. Constitution, "Old Ironsides," was launched at Boston, the most powerful warship in the world. She did not win her fame until 15 years later, and it would have been denied her then if it hadn't been for William Gray, Boston merchant. Navy Department had no funds to send her to sea when the War of 1812 began, because the war was so unpopular Congress had made no naval appropriation. Gray advanced money from his own pocket to refit and supply Old Ironsides.

Statesmen Are Flopping About

Conservatives Turn Toward New Deal, And New Dealers To Antis

WHEELER AND LOGAN CITED

Central Press
Washington Bureau
602 Times-Herald Bldg.

By CHARLES P. STEWART
Central Press Columnist.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—One of the peculiar by-products of the New Deal is to be seen in the flop of outstanding conservatives into the ranks of the more-or-less radicals and the corresponding flop of statesmen with past radical records into the conservatives' ranks.

I am taking it for granted, of course, that New Dealerism tends to the radical; that anti-New Dealerism tends to the conservative.

This may be disputed but I think it is fair discrimination. Also the verg "to flop" may be objected to, as having an uncomplimentary connotation. I don't intend so to employ it. I recall the case of a distinguished English public man, Sir William Temple. He was called a "trimmer". He insisted that he never had "trimmed" (or "flopped") in his life; that his associates had done all the flopping, while he had steered a straight course right down the center.

* * *

"FLOPPERS" OF TODAY

Our American political so-called "floppers" of today ought to read up on the 17th century biography of Sir William Temple. It would help them to explain themselves satisfactorily.

I have especially in mind the opposing cases of Senators Marvel M. Logan of Kentucky and Burton K. Wheeler of Montana.

Now, I never considered Senator Logan a reactionary. I always assessed him as a most enlightened, tolerant conservative, verging on a liberal. But I know that radicals rated him as a dyed-in-the-wool Bourbon. I never heard them say so, with execrations.

And I never regarded Senator Wheeler as a vehement left-winger. But I formerly heard conservatives refer to him as "red"—with shudders.

* * *

Well, Senator Logan has proved to be a staunch New Dealer.

He was one of the administration's strongholds in the federal supreme court fight. He suggested a change or two in the administration's court plan, but only with a view to getting the plan adopted, in substance.

Can such a New Dealer, in that instance, ever get back to anti-New Dealer-ism in general? I doubt it.

Senator Wheeler initially was 100 per cent New Deal. The whole New Deal proposition was right down his alley—until the supreme court plan was set up, to be bowled against. Then, as we know, he balked, and violently.

After that fight, can he, ever again, be reckoned as a wholehearted New Dealer? I doubt that also.

* * *

McCARL AS G. O. P. HEAD?

Switching the subject, J. Raymond McCarl is suggested as the new chairman of the Republican national committee.

McCarl originally was secretary to Senator George W. Norris of Nebraska—which certainly should recommend him as a liberal. Fifteen years ago congress created the job of United States comptroller general—and McCarl got it. The law permitted him to serve for a decade and a half, ineligible to reappointment. This was intended to make him thoroughly independent.

And WAS Ray McCarl independent?

The well-known hog on ice had nothing to compare with his independence throughout the Coolidge and Hoover regimes, and on into Roosevelt's. The number of expense accounts he turned down was wonderful.

* * *

A MEAN JOB

It did not make him popular.

His 15-year term expired and no successor to him has been named.

He held an unpopular office.

He has the support of a lot of folk who want to save national money, but they say that his original boss, Senator Norris, long ago parted company with him, as reactionary.

McCarl would not be much of a presidential candidate, but he might be pretty good as a Republican party chairman.

Named President Of Student Council

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 21.—Raymond Allen, Erie senior at Westminster college, has been named president of the Student Council in an all-college election.

Allen, a graduate of Academy high school, is a major in the department of economics and business administration, and of Theta Upsilon Omega fraternity. He has been active in intramurals and was last year's Junior Prom chairman.

He is the son of Mr. and G. E. Allen, 1113 W. 26th street, Erie.

AROUND CITY HALL

It is doubtful if there is a city the size of New Castle which has for the past year enjoyed better health. There has been some contagion but not very much and taking everything into consideration New Castle has enjoyed excellent health. There has been practically no typhoid fever. What few cases were found had a source other than here. Very few cases of diphtheria have been reported. The check kept on school children and immediate quarantine has gone far to check any possible epidemics.

When Mayor Charles E. McGrath accepted the recommendation of Motor Mechanic Charles Colnot that the city dispose, by trade-in, the Oldsmobile police car for a Dodge used auto he made an economical move according to city hall observers. The Odlsmobile had been used for years and to repair the machine would have required parts costing more than $200. The labor cost was not included in this figure. The city will pay $350.00 net, for the Dodge which was bought from the Rick Motor Car company and will be delivered soon.

Croton residents who walk to and from the central section of the city will appreciate the construction of a sidewalk and steps at the foot of the Croton avenue hill. The improvement was ordered by Councilman B. F. Butler. North hill street car riders will appreciate also the construction of two catch basins in North Mill street. For years persons who boarded and left streets cars had to wade through water and some times they contracted colds from wet feet. The improvement is designed to give car patrons dry footing.

MILLBURN

GRANGE PARTY

In spite of inclement weather Millburn Grange had a most successful bingo party at their hall on Monday evening. Attendance was good and the short play "The Whole Truth" directed by Jared Winger, was cleverly presented. Bingo was the diversion of the evening and was followed by refreshments. Mrs. F. R. MILLBURN NOTES

Miss Mae Gilchrist of Mt. Jackson, spent the week end with Miss Mary Stewart.

The regular meeting of Millburn Grange will be held on Friday evening October 22.

Mr. and Mrs. L. D. Rockwell and children of Wilkinsburg, former residents here, called on friends Sunday afternoon.

Miss Esther Drake, of Kittanning spent the week end with her parents. A week ago Miss Drake attended the home coming celebration at State College.

Mr. and Mrs. George Dolby, of Canonsburg were week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Blake and accompanied them to Elk county where they visited Mr. and Mrs. Chan Bennett, of Brookville.

Miss Alice Patterson, professor of physical education at Ohio Wesleyan University spent the week end at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Patterson. Mrs. Patterson accompanied her daughter to Delaware for a visit.

Mrs. Charles Bougher was called to Pittsburgh early in the week by the death of her brother-in-law J. W. Flynn, which occurred suddenly on Saturday night. Later in the week Mrs. Bougher will visit his sister, Mrs. Olive Kline, in Baltimore, Md.

Week end guests of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Holliday were J. R. Holliday, of Richmond, Va., Mr. and Mrs. John Adams and children, of Greenville, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Holliday of Butler and Donald Holliday of Freedom. Donald Holiday and Leo Wolbert attended the field meet at New Castle on Saturday.

Long Has Leading Role In Thriller

Takes Important Part In Westminster Little Theatre Production

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 21.—William Long, Edgewood, Westminster college junior, takes the leading role in the Little Theatre production of "Night Must Fall", modern English psychological murder-thriller, to be produced on the campus Oct. 20-23, under the sponsorship of Masquers, dramatics fraternity.

Long, a transfer from Carnegie Tech school of drama, is also assisting with the designing of sets and staging for the play. Last year he worked as program manager at the Texas Centennial exposition, Dallas, and during the past summer worked under B. Iden Payne at the Shakespearian theatre, Stratford-on-Avon, England. After graduating from Westminster, Long expects to take up Shakeaspearian drama in England.

While rehearsing "Night Must Fall", Long is directing his own one-act play, "The Wisdom of Woong Yat". Long is a graduate of Edgewood high school, and is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Long, 75 Greendale avenue, Edgewood.

POLICE RUN RISKS! BUT THERE'S MORE DANGER —IN BEING A BABY

According to figures, a baby runs more risks than a policeman on active duty. Some of the hazards that baby faces are soft bones, rickets and poor teeth, as a result of too little calcium in the diet.

Protect your baby from those dangers with Rieck's Sealtest Vitamin D Milk. To this pure, nourishing milk has been added 400 U.S.P. Units of Vitamin D—the Vitamin that promotes the growth of sound bones and healthy teeth.

Your doctor will tell you that every one needs Vitamin D: Babies, growing children, adults, and, especially, expectant mothers.

Start your family, today, on this milk with extra nutritional value. Telephone New Castle 2500, order from your Rieck's milkman, or buy at your favorite store.

HE MADE LIFE Safer FOR CHILDREN

Louis Pasteur

No man in all the world contributed more to make life safer than the French chemist—Louis Pasteur. His discovery of pasteurization was the first great step in safeguarding the purity and wholesomeness of milk—so vital to health. Every mother owes a debt of gratitude to this tireless laboratory worker who made life safer for children.

THE SEALTEST SYSTEM OF LABORATORY PROTECTION Sealtest

TO MAKE LIFE SAFER, the Sealtest System of Laboratory Protection co-operates constantly with public health authorities to improve the quality and safeguard the purity of milk, ice cream and other dairy products

The Sealtest System of Laboratory Protection was formed by an affiliated group of milk and ice cream companies . . . to supervise the production of their dairy products . . . to give added assurance of quality and purity.

In New Castle, Rieck's is the member-company of the Sealtest System. Rieck's has all of the advantages of more than one hundred scientific laboratories, all of the counsel of some of America's leading food scientists.

In our plant, a Sealtest technician maintains a close inspection of all raw materials and of every step in production.

All of this is for your protection, so that you may know that the milk your children drink, the ice cream you eat, the other dairy products you serve are absolutely pure and safe.

Order Rieck's Sealtest Milk, serve Rieck's Sealtest Ice Cream—the only milk and ice cream in New Castle that bear the Sealtest Symbol.

"HOUSEWARMING" IS SURPRISE TO COUPLE

A "housewarming" party was tendered Dr. and Mrs. H. R. Weber in their new East Leasure avenue home on Wednesday evening, when a group of their friends invaded, taking them by complete surprise.

An appetizing roast chicken dinner was served the group, at a suitable hour, with Hallowe'en tones predominating in all appointments. Fall flowers, centered the dining room table. Following, Dr. G. S. Jenkins, in behalf of those gathered, presented the honored ones with a beautiful bridge lamp, to use in their new residence. They responded in a most fitting manner.

Bingo featured the remaining hours, with Mrs. J. R. McCaskey and Mrs. H. R. Weber winning the prizes.

The committee in charge, was made up of Mrs. Graham Pierce, Mrs. Robert Blank and Mrs. R. H. Johnston.

Cheerio Club

Cheerio club members, disguised as witches and what-not, were guests Tuesday evening of Mrs. Edward Kelley, East Washington street, at a Hallowe'en party.

Mrs. Kenneth McDonald won the prize for the best costume. Contest prizes went to Mrs. Floyd Neyman and Miss Genevieve Neyman, a new member, and the door prize was won by Miss Viola Neyman.

A reading was given by Mrs. Neyman entitled "Four Leaf Clover"; Mrs. William Burdett spoke on "Home Management" and Miss Viola Neyman spoke on "The New Art of Entertaining." A lunch was served at the close.

Cheerio members will meet next time with the Neyman home on Thorpe street.

Church Guild

The October luncheon and business meeting of the First Methodist Church Guild will be held Wednesday, October 2, at one o'clock in the church dining room. Reservations are being taken by Mrs. John Loudon up until Monday.

TRI-QUAD MEMBERS GUESTS WEDNESDAY

The regular bi-weekly assembly for Tri-Quad Bridge club members, was held Wednesday evening, in the home of Miss Lucille Emery, Laurel avenue, with Mrs. R. D. Cunningham, as a special guest.

Following the usual round of cards, prizes were given to Elizabeth Morrow and Mrs. Samuel Brown. A period of conversation was concluded with the serving of a dainty repast by the hostess, who had as her aide, Mrs. Charles Webb of Sharon, an out of town member.

The next meeting, will be held in two weeks, with Mrs. Samuel McCleary, East Leasure avenue.

G. H. M. CLASS HAS DINNER AT CHURCH

The Central Presbyterian church, was the scene of an enjoyable event on Wednesday evening, when G. H. M. class members, gathered for a tureen dinner party. Special guests were Dr. and Mrs. C. B. Wingerd.

A delicious menu was served at nicely arranged tables, Hallowe'en suggestions prevailing throughout in all details. Hostesses in charge, composed Mrs. Fred Donaldson, Mrs. William Donaldson and Miss Lillian Donaldson.

The social period was dispensed with, and instead, the assemblage attended the prayer meeting in a body.

INDIANA ALUMNI MAKE DONATION

The next meeting for the Lawrence County Indiana Alumni members, will be held November 11. The amount of five dollars was donated toward funds for Slippery Rock students to buy new books, at their last meeting, held on Tuesday evening, at a prominent tea room. Thirty were present.

Miss Mildred Gresham was chairman of the committee in charge. The business period was presided over by president, Kathryn McCreary.

The door prize, was awarded to Mrs. Lena Silverman, at the close of the evening.

G. N. Club Members Party

A Hallowe'en party, was held on Wednesday evening by G. N. club members in the home of Mrs. Floyd Semione, 304 East Division street, which took the form of a masquerade. Special guests, included Mrs. Anthony Bullano, Mrs. Lena Ferrazzanio and Mrs. Nancy Brasci.

In the costume contest, Mrs. Lloyd Gasper and Mrs. Nancy Brasci, captured the awards. In cards trophies were distributed to Mrs. Louis Gasper, Mrs. Sam Coli and Mrs. Sam DeBasi, for winning distinction.

To make the evening most complete, a spaghetti dinner was served by the hostess, at a table decorated in Hallowe'en suggestions. The full course menu was enjoyed by candle light. Music was an added feature, with the Pagane brothers performing. Other pastimes brought the evening to a close.

Mrs. Joseph Sansosti of Harrison street will receive the group in her home in two weeks, for a pajama party.

Merry Maidens Club

Members of the Merry Maidens club gathered in the home of Mary Jane Gallonio recently for their regular meeting. The occasion honored Anna Fazzone, it being her birthday anniversary.

The group whiled away the hours dancing, singing and playing cards. Those winning prizes were Caroline Piccari, and Frances Valletta. A delicious lunch was served by the hostess. Frances Valletta was a special guest.

On Tuesday, October 26, members will be received by Caroline Piccari, of Cunningham avenue.

Palsy-Walsy Club

Palsy-Walsy club members, enjoyed the hospitality extended Wednesday evening, in the home of Mrs. Marshall Ciotto, 838 East Washington street.

Bingo was the pastime, awards falling to Mrs. Anthony Frank and Mrs. Walter Meister. Lunch was a later pleasure, the hostess having seasonal decorations in her appointments.

In two weeks, Mrs. Anthony Frank of Franklin avenue, will receive members, for a similar party.

LIVINGSTON GUILD ANNIVERSARY PARTY

Members of the Livingston Missionary Guild of the Central Christian church, held their anniversary dinner Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Thomas Evans on Northview avenue, which proved a decided success.

A business period followed the serving of a delicious menu, when Mrs. Norman Zeigler reported on the recent convention held at Hershey, Pa. A social hour concluded the informal occasion, which was attended by guests numbering nearly twenty-five.

The hostesses for November, will be announced.

Theto-Rho Girls

Theta-Rho Girls club members, will meet for their regular business session on Friday evening, in the I. O. O. F. hall, when a large class of candidates will be taken into the organization. Card playing and a social time will follow, when the winners in the recent membership contest, will be feted by the losing side.

Guests will be present from Beaver, Ellwood City, Youngstown and immediate vicinity.

Friendship Club

Friendship club members were received in the home of Mrs. T. Perro, Butler avenue on Wednesday evening. The pastime was found in card contests with Mrs. A Appolito winning the prize.

Plans were made for a Hallowe'en party the details to be announced.

In two weeks, the club will meet in regular session with Mrs. Thomas Cuscino, Neshannock Boulevard.

Stock Exchange Envoy Is Coming

'Exchange From Within' Is Topic For Westerfield Friday Night

Jason Westerfield, noted public relations director of the New York Stock Exchange, comes to New Castle Friday evening to address a dinner meeting of businessmen, bankers and the public in general in the Green room of the Y. W. C. A. on "The Stock Exchange From Within".

The Junior Chamber of Commerce and the service clubs are sponsoring his visit.

In Sharon last night Mr. Westerfield was heard by a large audience and in Meadville the evening before he spoke before a large crowd. He speaks at a huge dinner in Youngstown next month.

Tomorrow night's dinner, at 6 o'clock, will end early enough to permit guests to attend the New Castle-Warren game.

GIRL SCOUTS

TROOP 2

The Girls Scouts of troop 2 held their weekly meeting at Highland school on Tuesday, October 19. The meeting was opened with the playing of games. Everyone then went to their patrol corners where the dues were collected and the attendance checked.

Business was discussed. Helen Hayes, Marian Hildebrand, Esther Nowalk, Virginia Rowland, Esther Scholler and Dorothy Hayes volunteered to clean the cupboard of the Red Cross office. It was voted that the troop provide a pencil sharpener for the Girl Scout office. For the purchase of it the following committee was appointed: Martha Lawrence, Georgia Howland and Joan Thompson.

A hike was planned by Esther Scholler, Kathryn Davis and Helen Urmson. The girls wishing to attend it will meet at Highland school on Saturday, October 23, at 11:30 o'clock. Each person will take her own lunch.

Next Tuesday the troop is going through the Bell Telephone company. Tuesday evening the home nurse group will meet at the home of Miss Melvin, 219 Clenmore boulevard.

The meeting was closed with the singing of a song.

Scribe, Dorothy Hayes.

Every department of a tin plant is "the most important" in the minds of the men working in the particular parts of the plant. Each employe believes his department is the most important. We asked them to prove it and so here is the first proof. Each week a department will prove that it is the most important.

SPORTSMANSHIP

Last Saturday, Martins Ferry's "Purple Riders" with their "fan" following invaded New Castle and played the "Red Hurricane" their usual good game of football. Of course, we rejoice in the victory that was New Castle's; but we also rejoice and congratulate both the winners and the losers on the high type of sportmanship that was in evidence all through the game and afterwards. We also recall last year's game when the victory was theirs the same high type of sportsmanship was in evidence. They showed consideration and respect to the visitors as New Castle was privileged to do last week. Both teams played clean, hard football and both won the admiration and esteem of every fair-minded fan. The football relations, in the writer's opinion, should be continued between these two splendid football teams. The teams, the schools' and the towns' seem to be at their best when playing each other.

MAKING TIN PLATE

"Why My Department Is Important" By the Bar Yard Crew.

My department, which is the bar yard, has a great responsibility, because this department is specifically charged with the delivery of all tin bar to the forty mills.

Tin bar is the commercial name for the steel bars which come from the steel mills in railroad cars. Each order is kept separate, unloaded, weighed and either stored in crates until needed, or delivered to the mill's as unloaded.

This bar is carefully checked as to length, weight of bar, and in some cases drillings are taken and chemical analysis made of them for content of steel. This is done to make certain that specifications are right for the plate being produced. There are only 25 men in the department, yet 4000 tons of steel, divided into 100 separate orders, are handled each week. Much of this is sheared on our own alligator bar shears. Our department is charged with responsibility of not only keeping the hot mills supplied with bar sufficient for its daily needs, but in giving it to them in sufficient graduation of width to meet the various size rolls.

In common practice there are several sizes of rolls in use at one time in the hot mills. Good practice requires that for the first twenty-four hours of operation, there should be a gradually wider plate rolled to meet the expansion of the rolls. There is, after this, a gradual narrowing of size to meet the requirement of the rolls.

This tin bar comes to us from four steel mills at widely separated points, over seven different railroads. We believe the bar department to be the hub of a drive wheel in which is concentrated power to produce nine million pounds of plate a week.

HAMILL MARRIED

When Watt Hamill, of the Structural Department, came to work the other morning, he was greeted by a serenade of his fellow-workers armed with tin cans loaded with peebles as noise makers. Watt, amazed and non-plussed, suddenly remembered that this was his first day at work since his recent marriage.

Watt then produced the "smokes", and the serenaders presented him with lollypops and a wedding present, as an event such as a wedding does not "get by" unnoticed or unrecorded in Watt's department.

"Best wishes and congratulations."

CARNEGIE-ILLINOIS CHORUS

The first practice session of the Carnegie-Illinois chorus was held Sunday afternoon in the Y. W. C. A. What they need now is more basses, sopranos, tenors and altos.

The World AND THE Mud Puddles

have been afraid to make use of them. We would not permit American entrepeneurs to develop the resources of the Islands. We seemed to fear the mob cry of the Demos—"Imperialism". The Philippines and Manuel Quezon seemed to frighten them.

The Governors which were sent to the Philippines, with perhaps the exception of General Leonard Wood, did not seem to possess any "guts" whatsoever. Even young Theodore Roosevelt, when Quezon wanted to talk to him, would parade over to Quezon's office, instead of insisting—as any red-blooded Governor should insist—that Quezon come and see him. At a result, we have now promised the Filipinos their independence, and having obtained this promise, they are now fearful lest the United States withdraw entirely from the Islands and leave them a prey to Japan. In other words, Quezon and Company are not so keen for independence as they were.

The present administration—Democratic as it is; dislike it as I may—has sent to the Islands a Commissioner, not a Governor—we have ceased to govern. His name is McNutt—I think anyone can guess his nationality—and McNutt does not mince words. A red-blooded army officer, now stationed in the Philippines, writes me:

"The Lord knows I don't like politicians, and particularly those of the New Deal, but this man McNutt is really something.

"All that furore in the States about the "Toast Incident" made us out here rather peeved. As a matter of fact, it was the best thing any American official ever did and has done more to increase American 'face' in the Orient than any single act since we've been here."

If President Manuel Quezon now wants to talk to McNutt, he hunts him up; looks for him and makes appointments with him and sees him in McNutt's office.

There is another fact: Great Britain is bringing a lot of influence to bear on Washington concerning the Philippines. Great Britain wishes to trade with the Orient; so do we, but if the Japanese are allowed to run hog-wild, there will be no trade for anyone but the Japanese.

It is the "White Man's Burden" and unless the white men are willing to assume it and carry it through, the Mongolian is going to rule the roost.

1805—Britain won the supremacy of the Mediterranean that it now strives to preserve. The fleet commanded by an invalid Admiral Horatio Nelson routed the combined French and Spanish fleet in the battle of Trafalgar, in what was since to the struction of the Spanish Armada, the most important naval engagement in history.

1806—Henry Knox, 56, chocked to death on a chicken bone, at Thomaston, Maine. He was the fat glutton who made history as the first chief of artillery of the Army and who succeeded Washington as commander-in-chief of the Army. Under Knox the Army dwindled until he had only 80 men in his entire command to defend the U. S.

1808—Samuel Francis Smith was born in Boston. He was 24 and a Baptist clergyman when in half an hour he wrote the words of "America." Though the tune he used is that of the British National Anthem Smith did not know it. He copied the air from a German song book which called it Heil dir im Seigerkranz.

Roadhouse Keeper Will Be First Witness Against John Montague Today

GOLF WIZARD MAY BE FOUND GUILTY

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
International News Service Staff Correspondent

ELIZABETHTOWN, N. Y. Oct 21—Kin Hana, whose roadhouse at Jay, N. Y. was "stuck" up by four masked bandits one night 7 years ago will be the first witness for the state when testimony begins today at the trial of Laverne Moore, better known as John Montague, the golf wizard of Hollywood.

It is the contention of District Attorney Thomas W. McDonald that Montague was one of the four bandits.

"Monty's" plea to the first degree robbery indictment, which carries with it a possible punishment of ten to thirty years in prison, is "not guilty."

Family To Testify

Hana, a Japanese, about fifty years old, and the father of three grown daughters, will tell what transpired the night of August 5, 1930, when the bandits held up his place at the point of guns.

The entire Hana family will be called to stand, as will Matt Cobb, Mrs. Hana's 74 year old father. Cobb was knocked unconscious with the butt of a revolver in the hands of one of the bandits.

It is claimed by the state that the bandit who slugged Cobb answered to the name "Verne." The prosecution contends he was Laverne Moore.

Escaped Missouri Bank Robber Pleads Guilty To Three Indictments

(International News Service)

CLEVELAND, Oct. 21.—Arraigned before U. S. District Court Judge Paul Jones, James Widmer, escaped Missouri bank robber and member of the Bird gang, pleaded guilty to three indictments charging bank robbery.

Widmer was remanded to jail to await sentence.

He was brought here from Toledo, where he was held following his return to Ohio from Philadelphia, where he was arrested.

Widmer steadfastly has maintained he knew nothing of the whereabouts of his fellow mob members, Frank and Charles Bird, also escaped Missouri convicts.

He was arrested in Philadelphia in a stolen car.

Mencken Is Back In Stride Again

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 21—H. L. Mencken, former literary Titan whose devastating criticisms have made many notables squirm, was adjudged back in his best form today following a tirade against various prominent personages.

Commenting on President Roosevelt's fireside chats and voice, Mencken said:

"I think it's hooey. I don't believe Roosevelt writes his fireside speeches. He is not a stylist. He just sits down and puts briefs together. And his voice doesn't seem very musical. It sounds tenorish to me" Calling Gertrude Stein "a quack" he added:

'She has no ideas and she can't express 'em."

He described Sinclair Lewis, as "a most wonderful man and a sincere one who will die in the bosom of the church."

Asserts Members Of Brady Gang Stayed Near Pittsburgh

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—A hotel keeper in suburban Finleyville today insisted that James Dalhover, 30, and Clarence Lee Shaffer, 29, members of the notorious Al Brady gang, stayed at his hostelry for eight days, from September 28 to October 1.

Shaffer was killed a few days ago in Bangor, Me., along with Brady, while Dalhover was captured by G-men.

Frank Zrimsek, 34, the hotel proprietor, and his wife, Sue, identified the men from pictures in a detective magazine following the gun battle in Maine.

Zrimsek said that part of the time the two gangsters were accompanied by a tall, attractive woman of about 25 with light hair.

The mobsters, when ambushed by federal men in Bangor, had a sedan with Ohio license plates. Likewise, the two stopping at Zrimsek's establishment, had a car with similar tags, Zrimsek said, adding:

"They came about midnight on September 22. After paying for the room they went out and later returned with the woman. Once in their room I found a lot of bandages and antiseptic stuff, also newspapers from many cities and detective stories. The night after the woman left the two men made a mysterious trip out of the fire escape. They said they were tinners and left the next night."

Meters Again Aired Before City Council

Company To Be Asked To Sign Meter Installation Cost Agreement

COSTS MORE THAN CONTRACT CALLS FOR

Before the city of New Castle pays the Municipal Equipment company 85 percent of their share of money deposited in parking meters they must sign a document agreeing to pay the full cost of installation it was decided today when council met in city hall.

This decision was arrived at after a resolution had been presented in which it was proposed to disburse $4,548.95, collected up to October 19, as follows: installment cost of 438 meters, $876.00 (to the city); $550.94, or 15 percent of the remainder to the city and $3,122.01 to the company.

At this point Councilman Joseph D. Alexander brought up the matter of installation and alleged that, while the contract called for an installation cost of $2.00 per meter, the actual installation has cost either $4.21 or $4.31 for each meter installed.

He argued that if the resolution was agreed to, it should be understood that the $2.00 per meter installation cost, would be only a partial payment. All council agreed that this was the agreement reached in an informal meeting at city hall recently.

Alexander argued that this should be reduced to writing. He said the city engineer had furnished the cost of installing the meters to council. He also declared that the company was supposed to install the meters but had the city do it and the cost in the contract said $2.00 which was exceeded.

Expects Them To Pay

Councilman J. M. Rice declared that the Municipal Equipment company's representative, Joseph Rick, had stated at the informal meeting that installation cost had been less than $2.00, in some other cities. Alexander replied that he did not care what the cost was in other cities, he was concerned with the installation cost here.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath informed his colleagues that so far as he was concerned he felt sure, as did all the other councilmen, he added, that the company would pay the full cost of installation. He suggested that a stipulation be drawn up to cover the situation and council should adopt it.

Attorney Gilbert E. Long, assistant to the city solicitor, prepared several stipulations. However, apparently Councilman Alexander was not satisfied with any of them. One stipulated that the company should pay an installation cost satisfactory to the city. Alexander said he wanted the exact cost written in.

The discussion followed the adoption of an agreement fathered by Councilman Rice in which the Municipal Equipment company agreed to several points asked by councilmen when the informal meeting was held in the mayor's office recently.

No Cost To City

The agreement provided that the contract should date from June 24 and that the meters should have a trial period dating from September 15. The agreement also provided that the company would make all repairs and replacements to meters installed without cost to the city.

Following the adoption of the agreement Councilman B. F. Butler said he voted in favor of the agreement because any opposition wouldn't do any good and because opposition expressed heretofore had brought new mechanisms for the meters.

Mayor Charles E. McGrath advised his colleagues that since the installation of the new mechanism in the meters, not one had been reported to police as out of order. In fact the mayor's attitude throughout the meeting was that the company which sold the meters would be willing to right anything found wrong and that the installation cost would be fully paid for.

No legislative action toward disbursing the collection was taken following a suggestion of Attorney Long that the matter be permitted to lay over until he could prepare the legal documents necessary at which time the company would be asked to sign it, accepting responsibility for paying for the installation cost. City Engineer Throop was also instructed to compile an itemized cost of the installation.

MOTHER FINDS STRANGER ASLEEP IN SON'S BED

(International News Service)

BOSTON—Funny enough to have happened in a movie comedy, the experience of a Dorchester woman who entered her son's room one morning to call him for breakfast left her with more chills than chuckles at the time.

Lying in blissful slumber on a bed was a strange and very much intoxicated man.

To interest policemen who soon made their appearance, the stranger said he had entered the house during the early morning hours, thinking it his own home, and had undressed and gone to bed.

The woman's son had gone away for the week-end unexpectedly without his mother's knowledge.

SET RIVER ON FIRE TO FULFILL CLASS PROPHECY

(International News Service)

CINCINNATI, O. — Rev. John Bramkamp, pastor of the Emmanuel Lutheran church, Maywood, Ill., cleared up the 51-year-old mystery of how he set the Ohio River on fire when he returned here recently for a high school class reunion.

The now Lutheran minister related that his act was prompted by the class prophet's prediction "he will never set the river on fire."

To disprove it young Bramkamp went to the river the day following his graduation. Shortly after his arrival the surface burst into a mass of flames. The mysterious phenomenon, belatedly explained, by a quantity of potassium which he threw into the water causing an explosion and flames.

HELP FOR CHECKER FANS

(International News Service)

MARTINS FERRY, O.—There will be no straining of necks to view the ninth annual tournament of the American Checker Association here. Spectators will be able to see the actual reproduction of games on huge checkerboards to be hung on walls. Besides making it easier for checker fans the installation of the giant boards will eliminate crowding around the players' tables.

TWIN CATFISH DISCOVERED BY COLLEGE CLASS

(International News Service)

NEW ORLEANS, La.—Among interesting discoveries made by the summer class of biology of Louisiana State University was twin catfish.

The twin catfish, claimed to be the only ones on record, were found by Mrs. Jessie Chambers of San Antonio. The fish died but were brought back on a slide.

The class conducted a summer laboratory at Grand Isle, famous fishing resort, for the study of marine life.

C. J. Pertuit of Baton Rouge reported that he had found a method to determine the age of fish by their scales. He reported that the fish has a scale structure similar to the growth rings of a tree, with two growth rings to the year.

The summer laboratory course is held annually.

GOOD EXCHANGE OFFER

(International News Service)

SEATTLE, Wash.—The city of Seattle is not in the pet cemetery business, but may enter it.

Mrs. Mabel V. Hall, operator of a Ketchikan, Alaska, curio shop has offered the park board a fine totem pole, valued at $5,000, if her pet dog can be buried in beautiful Woodland park.

Board members indicated they thought it might be a good trade.

Controversy Rages Over New Fashions

(International News Service)

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Barbaric or amusing? Crazy or deliberately seductive? It all depends on how you view the autumn fashion pronouncements for the ladies.

Says Carmel Snow, editor of Harper's Bazaar:

"I don't feel that the autumn fashions are at all shocking. There are many glittering paillettes (spangles to you), many amusing hair-dresses and many crazy hats but it is certainly not the fashion to be vulgar."

Woman Answers

Says the Rev. Dr. Bernard C. Clausen, one of Pittsburgh's most prominent clergymen:

"The fashions are barbaric in their luxurious display. "They are deliberately seductive. Beastly passions are all too easily aroused. This year presents an array of intentional incitements which will leave their mark on our criminal records."

By way of rebuttal, Miss Snow comes back with this:

"Clothes are more charming and feminine this year than they have been for many years. As for example we did two pages in our September 15th issue entitled 'Saints and Sinners,' and I assure you we found many more fashions for our saintly page than we found for the sinners."

And there you are ladies and gentlemen—you'll have to decide for yourself whether the girl who lives next door is practising her wiles or just being funny when she steps out in her new outfit.

Raw Vegetables In Infant Diet Aid To Health

Philadelphia Doctor Recommends Raw Vegetables As Infant Health Ration

(International News Service)

PHILADELPHIA—Raw eggs, raw turnips and raw carrots are food items recommended as a diet for infants who have not yet cut their eye teeth by Dr. Charles La Wall dean of the Philadelphia College of Pharmacy and Science.

When the weaning stage has been passed, however, and the larger molars begin to come in, Dr. La Wall would add a quarter of raw prime beef to Junior's fare. This sort of menu will produce a strong and virile youngster the dean declared in a popular science lecture here.

Dr. La Wall holds it is quite possible to sustain life on raw foods if the addict avoids such items as pork and some of the hardier tubers. These latter are considered dangerous in the uncooked state because of the animal parasites contained in the pork and the over-supply of fibre and raw starch in the tuber specie of vegetables.

Lettuce, carrots, cabbage and celery are superior foods in the raw state, he said, because the roughage is higher in percentage than starch content. The latter in potatoes and similar vegetables is made more easily digestible by cooking.

Singing Tower For Will Rogers Shrine

Chimes To Be Amplified Over Whole Pikes Peak Region

(International News Service)

COLORADO SPRINGS, Colo.—The Will Rogers Shrine of the Sun is to become a singing tower.

Famous Cheyenne Mountain, upon which it stands, will become a musical peak when chimes and musical programs are amplified over the entire Pike's Peak region from the Will Rogers Memorial.

Spencer Penrose, who built the 100-foot granite shaft in memory of the late Will Rogers, has just announced that a full set of Westminister chimes, and vibra harp will be installed in the shrine before the formal dedication is held September 6—Labor Day.

The chimes will be heard on the hour and each quarter hour, the first song of the chimes being heard with the awakening of the birds at dawn. They will send their soft, silver notes over the community until about 11 o'clock at night, when they will close the day with a soft hymn. When night wraps its robe around the shrine, floodlights will be so synchronized that the tower will be gradually lighted before, during and after the chimes sound.

Schedule of Lights

The lights will come on 10 seconds before the quarter hour and continue to make the edifice a jewel in the sky for 30 seconds after the last note has echoed away.

Recordings, or any type of program that can be broadcast can be put over amplifying system. On special occasions, programs will be broadcast, such as Christmas carols. The chimes and vibra harp can be automatically or manually operated.

The chimes will be placed in operation at the September 6 dedication. The world-wide Will Rogers Memorial Rodeo will be held September 4, 5 and 6 in conjunction with the deduction and to give cowboys an opportunity to memorialize Will Rogers. Special trains will be operated from California, Texas, Oklahoma, Kansas, Missouri and Illinois for the dedication and rodeo.

Half of the 84,000 physicians in the Soviet Union are women, and 11,000 women work in Soviet laboratories as trained technicians.

Vitt Pleased With New Job At Cleveland

Former Big Leaguer Glad Of Chance To Manage Cleveland Indians

COLONEL RUPPERT GIVES APPROVAL

(International News Service)

OAKLAND, Cal., Oct. 21—"For the past 20 years in baseball, I've had one idea, and that was to manage a major league club. It looks like I've got it at last."

This was the comment Wednesday of Oscar Vitt, former major league infielder and manager of the Newark Bears last season, when asked about his reported new contract to pilot the Cleveland Indians.

"I just talked to Alva Bradley, the president, over the phone," Vitt said, "and he's mailing the contract right out to me. I can't say what the terms are, but I can say they are satisfactory all around, and they more than suit me."

Vitt managed teams on the Pacific coast and in Salt Lake City for 15 years.

Ruppert Approves.

New York, Oct. 21.—Officials of the New York Yankees, parent organization of the Newark Bears, were surprised but glad to learn that Oscar Vitt had agreed to manage the Cleveland Indians.

"Vitt had come to terms to continue as manager of our Newark farm team,' Business Manager Ed Barrow said, "but he had our permission to negotiate for a major league job, and I'm glad he has bettered himself. I knew he was among the candidates for the vacancy with the Boston Bees, but did not know he was in line for the place at Cleveland."

"It's all news to me," Col. Jacob Ruppert, Yankee owner—and owner of the Bears—said. "But I'm happy to know Vitt has landed a position as manager of a major league team.

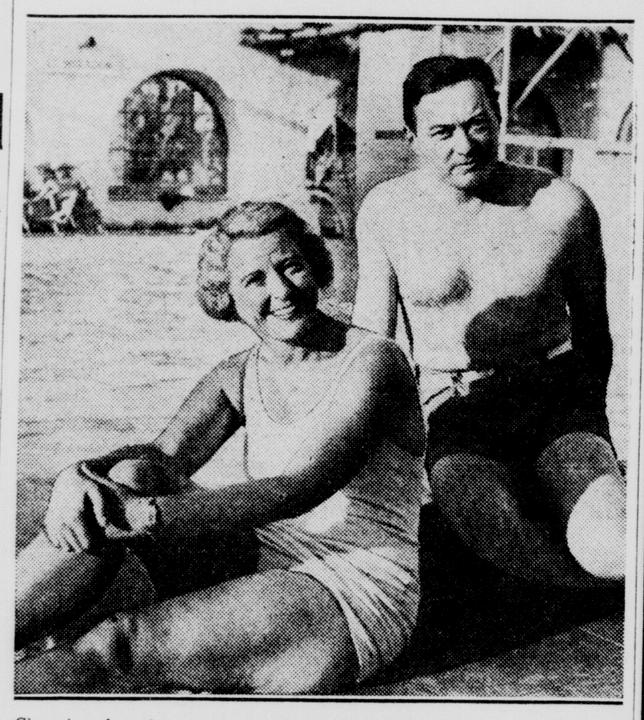
"It's perfectly all right with me. We never stand in the way of our men bettering themselves.

"No, I have no idea what we will do about the Newark vacancy. We haven't had time to think about it."

DO NOT OVERLOAD

Chief of Police Ralph A. Criswell today stated that police have been ordered to watch coal trucks which are over-loaded because coal is falling from trucks, thus inviting accidents. He said motorcycle policemen had complained of large chunks of coal having fallen off trucks. They have been ordered to watch for improperly laden trucks, Criswell stated.

Lippman's Wife Sues



Charging her famous journalist-husband with extreme cruelty and habitual indulgence in a "violent and ingovernable temper," Mrs. Faye Lippman filed suit for divorce against Walter Lippman at Bradenton, Fla. They were married in 1917, and are pictured above in happier days. (Central Press)

Claim Suspect Peered In Window

Colored Man Held By Police —Wounded Slightly By Buckshot

James Barker, 28, colored, and married, of Scioto street, is in the city jail, with some buckshot in his right shoulder and right leg, having allegedly been shot at 1:30 a. m., today by William Watkins in East Big Run street. The colored man was shot police say, while fleeing from the Watkins home where it was alleged by Watkins he was peeking through a rear window. Barker was caught by Chief of detectives Ray Showalter and Detectives John Moore and John Young while leaving for Youngstown at 10 a. m.

According to reports received by police at 1:30 a. m., Mr. and Mrs. Watkins were asleep on the ground floor of their home at 19 East Big Run street when they heard a noise. Watkins claims to have seen a man peeking through the window.

He seized a shotgun and went outside the house. He told Officers Flinner, Nelson and Tewell he saw a man fleeing between two houses and fired one shot. When the man did not stop he fired again. He did not know at that time if the man was hit.

The officers searched the vicinity and found a man's hat, they report. When Showalter and detectives reported for duty this morning they took up the case and about 10 a. m., saw a man who proved to be Barker walking along the P. R. R. tracks near the Engineering Works.

They took him into custody, questioned him and learned he had gone to the Jameson Memorial hosptial for treatment but would not stay there. He denied that he had window-gazed but did say, the police allege, he was in Big Run street "looking for a man named Davis."

The man was examined and the officers report that he was found to have suffered from the hit scored by Watkins' gun.

Later police said he had been identified by the Watkins as the man they saw at the window.

The man was charged with suspicion.

It isn't wickedness but ignorance that makes a man swear. He doesn't know enough words to express his feeling without cussing.

Court Orders Harris To Pay Wife Weekly

Arthur J. Harris was ordered to pay his wife, Emma Harris, $5 per week until further notice, following a hearing before Judge James A. Chambers at Lawrence county court this morning. Harris was originally arrested on a desertion and non-support charge and had been ordered to pay $10 per week. He did this a short time and then, around 1931, had the amount reduced to $5. For some time he has not been paying anything and a process was issued. Before it was served he gave himself up. He claimed that he had been working "off and on" mostly on the WPA, and had been paying board to his father, which made him short of money to pay his wife.

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21.—Gov. George H. Earle announced he had accepted Major Lynn G. Adams' resignation and had appointed Major C. M. Wilhelm, chief of staff, to succeed the retiring officer as deputy commissioner of the state patrol.

"I have received Major Lynn G. Adams' resignation and have accepted it with regret," the governor said. "I want to thank him for the many fine years of conscientious service he has given to the commonwealth of Pennsylvania."

Confirming yesterday's exclusive International News Service disclosure, Adams said today his resignation had been in Gov. George H. Earle's hands "for some time."

At the same time he revealed he had decided not even to confer with Governor Earle today as scheduled.

"I did not announce my resignation formally yesterday because my personal friend, Attorney General Charles J. Margiotti, had asked me to reconsider," Adams added.

Adams, whose salary was $7,500 a year, said he hoped Major C. M. Wilhelm, chief of staff, will succeed him because of his "seniority, efficiency, and ability."

He explained his letter of resignation must be made public by the governor's office, "if at all."

Cooking School Prize Winners

Announce Awards Made At Dufford's Cooking School Contest

Prize winners were announced today by the W. F. Dufford company for the best cookies made during the cookie contest held as a part of the cooking school which closed on Wednesday in the Dufford store.

The first prize went to Mrs. Orran Weaver of 201 North Mercer street. She received an electric roaster.

Second prize went to Mrs. John Swanson of Albert street, who received a silex coffee maker.

Third prize went to Mrs. W. W. Wallace of 205 West Madison avenue, who received an electric floor lamp

Fourth prize went to Mrs. J. C. Rhodabaugh of the Wilmington road, who received a casserole and tray.

Fifth prize went to Mrs. Ruth C. Bryan of 914 Morton street, who received a pie plate and tray.

Sixth prize went to Mrs. Louis Hemphill, who received a cake plate and set.

The contest was to determine the best cookie baker in New Castle. Miss Kay Sizer, a home economist, and three ladies of the Pennsylvania Power company were the judges. Following the awards the cookies were distributed to the Margaret Henry Home, the Crawford Oak Ridge Home and the Almira Home.

Big Oil Fire Averted Today

(International News Service)

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21.—A possibly serious oil fire was averted today when firemen quickly squelched a fire which broke out on a scaffold near the oil tanks in the American Oil company's storage yards, just outside the city limits. The fire was caused by welders repairing an empty tank. Flames leaped 20 feet into the air but were quickly squelched.

HANNAS TO MEET

The Hannas football team will have a meeting tonight at the home of Joe Preb, 1612 Hanna street, at 7:30 o'clock, and all players are asked to be present. The Hannas will have a practice game Friday morning with the Nomads. The game will be played at Gaston Park field. Preby is the coach of the team.

Husbands Have Right To Smack Back At Wives

(International News Service)

CHICAGO, Oct. 21.—Granted, that no gentleman would hit a lady. But what should a poor fellow do when the lady is his wife and she hits him first?

Hit her back.

That, at least, is the opinion of Superior Court Judge John J. Lupe, who gave Harold A. Deane a good scolding when he said he was in fear of his life because of his wife's strong arm tactics and asked for a divorce.

The judge told him he had a legal right to defend himself and reserved action on the divorce plea.

Still, almost anybody would keep still about his past long enough to land a life-time job at $20,000.

War Mothers At Reading Session

READING, Pa., Oct. 21.—The advance guard of the Pennsylvania Chapter of American War Mothers converged upon reading today for the opening of the organization's annual conclave tomorrow. Members of the executive committee presided over by Mrs. Alice A. Stark, Philadelphia, state president, completed arrangements.

New York Has Relics Of Past

Grocery Store In Downtown District Still Burns Coal Oil Lamps

CHIC YOUNG TO KEEP ON DRAWING

By O. O. M'INTYRE

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Now and then there cling, like barnacles to a modern liner, stores, restaurants and offices out of a vanquished past. On a reach of down-town Prince street is a little grocery that is just as it was when it opened for trade 40 years ago.

O. O. McIntyre

On its shelves at the top and the leaning basket of dried apricots. When the front door opens a bell rings in the rear and the stooped and bewhiskered proprietor blinks out of the depths.

At dusk a single coal oil lamp illuminates the place. It is probably more antiquated than any Cross Road store at Speerce's cut. There are two offices in the Wall Street district without telephones and a notion store in the Flatbush section of Brooklyn has package baskets zinging on wires.

New York's most exclusive bank—the First National—recently built a new home, but it retained the roll top desks of long ago with the president's out in the open for all to see. And obeying the unwritten law that his hat must be at all times on top of his desk.

They have persuaded Chic Young, creater of the comic strip "Blondie," featuring the precocious child to carry on. When the artist's child, the prototype of the strip, passed on recently, the anguished parent declared he would never draw again. For many weeks he appeared stunned and could not be aroused from his lethargy. Finally they induced him to sit at his drawing board for awhile daily, and gradually he took up his popular chore again.

Conversion of the famous country home of Billie Burke, Burkley Crest, at Hastings-on-Hudson, into a fine suburban hotel, will remove what at one time was the best known estate, next to John D. Rockefeller's Pocantico Hills, in Westchester. It was a background for some of Florenz Ziegfeld's most elaborate spending splurges. Here at one time he garaged six Rolls Royces, built a dollhouse for his daughter, Patricia, said to have cost $20,000, and had a playground that included among other pets a baby elephant.

I am told that few window cleaners go for more than two years without a hair-raising escape from death. Despite the danger of their teeters on high ledges, eventually they grow careless and find themselves dangling to one end of a strap, high in mid-air. If they have successfully passed through the mishap they rarely meet death at their work. Considering the hazards of their calling, the death rate is astonishingly low.

My favorite of all New York theaters is the venerable and stately Empire. In the decor of a vanished past, it has gone down hill with an air. And today seems to attract the most fashionable first night audiences. Katharine Cornell usually plays there as do Nazimova and Gielgud and somehow in the musty shadows one feels the presence of Charles Frohman, John Drew and so many more of the theater when it was real theater. This season it displays the talents of Burgess Meredith and Lillian Gish in a play fittingly dated for the Empire—the Gay 90's. Between the foyer and the theater proper there is a carpeted promenade, and from the walls gaze down the autographed likenesses of the theatrical great of yesteryear. Coming into it from the noisy world outside, it distills a feeling of peace, like some country meeting house without hurry or self-consciousness.

Thingumbobs: Bert Fitzgibbon, the famous daffydill comedian of the vaudeville days, is recovering after two years in bed with a cracked spine near Boston. . . . Marcel Proust, famous French writer, could stand no light save that of a single flickering candle. . . . Alma Claybergh is visiting the Claude Bowerses on the Spanish border . . . J. Edgar Hoover is an indefatigable follower of the comic strips . . . Eddy Duchin, despite his success as a baton wielder, still wants to be the proprietor of a corner drug store.

From the Locust Valley Notes in a Long Island weekly: "Mrs. H. Pool of Skunk's Misery Road, has gone to her New York City apartment for the winter."

For just the winter? Why not farewell forever?

Sleeping In Nude Is Recommended By Beauty Experts

(International News Service)

WASHINGTON, Oct. 21.—Sleeping in the nude was recommended today by expert beauticians sponsoring the Washington beauty and style show.

Nude sleeping points the way to health and beauty, they declared, the theory being the pores have ample opportunity for a little "night breathing."

Other tidbits of beauticians' lore included:

Somersault to wear away body creases, and bandages wrapped beneath the chin 'afore bedtime will hold back double or triple chins.

Americanism: Slaving to earn abundance; starving to take off the fat.

Kiwanians Hear Discussion Of Relief Program

Characterizing a permanent governmental relief program as "collectivist" in theory, Ross D. Rosenberger addressed the Kiwanis club Wednesday at noon in the Castleton Hotel. "When any man gets something for nothing, you can depend upon it that some place, some man is getting nothing for something."

Mr. Rosenberger spoke on the subject, "The Good Neighbor." He denied the theory that good neighborliness meant the continuance of assistance to those who were in need, after an emergency had passed. He criticised the theory that wealth should be distributed on a basis that it went to those who most needed it. This, he said, destroyed initiative and was against the American tradition quoted by President Roosevelt.

The address was not an ordinary luncheon talk. In it was a discussion of economics, governmental theories and the question of permanent government relief.

In the absence of President Thomas L. Paden, Vice President Jess Kerr presided. M. C. Hornung introduced the speaker.

It may seem poor grammar, but usually it is true when he begins a sentence with the words, "I don't think."

'SAFEST DRIVER' WANTED

(International News Service)

BOSTON.—Massachusetts at the moment is without a 'safest driver.'

For George J. Martin, West Newton, who dented a fender on his automobile in a collision with an unidentified woman driver in Newton, lost the title, which he won last year driving without an accident for 27 years.

There is one hopeful sign. Although conditions are right all over the earth, the orators aren't swarming.

When you see America excited about putting a lock on the stable door, it's a sure sign. It means the horse is gone.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. Most people pass about 3 pints a day or about 3 pounds of waste.

Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning shows there may be something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

An excess of acids or poisons in your blood, when due to functional kidney disorders, may be the cause of nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

Making the grade

GROWING children with an abundance of energy usually do make the grade . . . and with ease.

Every thoughtful mother recognizes this fact . . . mothers know too that children need help to build and maintain blood strength.

Particularly is this true with those who have suffered some illness or who look pale . . . tire easily . . . are underweight or have lost their zest for food.

S.S.S. Tonic is especially designed to build up children's health through the red-blood-cells, thus putting them in better condition to enjoy the food they eat and to regain lost weight . . . all which make for strength and vitality.

Help your child to "make the grade" by starting him or her on a course of S.S.S. Tonic now. There is no substitute for this time-tested remedy and no ethical druggist will suggest something "just as good." © S.S.S. Co.

5 YEARS PROTECTION

● It is a mistake to believe that cool weather guards food against spoilage. Temperatures too cool for your comfort may be too warm to protect your food.

All year 'round, food must be protected at safety-zone temperatures between 32 and 50 degrees Fahrenheit. Above this mark, spoilage is rapid. Below, foods freeze.

Nature seldom maintains safety-zone temperatures. So don't depend on makeshift or old-fashioned, unreliable refrigeration methods. Health can be endangered . . . money can be wasted . . . when refrigeration is inadequate.

There is really no need to be without proper protection. Frigidaire with the Meter-Miser safeguards food day and night, and proves it! Does this while paying for itself and paying a profit besides!

Don't be without Frigidaire another day. Let us show you how you can own a Frigidaire without increasing your present household expenses! We'll show you Proof!

FRIGIDAIRE MADE ONLY BY GENERAL MOTORS — LOOK FOR THIS NAME-PLATE

BEWARE OF WINTER FOOD SPOILAGE!

The multiplication of bacteria in food causes spoilage. At temperatures above 50° this multiplication is rapid. Guard your food! Even in mid-winter kitchen temperatures are above 50°. And outside temperatures are above safety-zone only 19 days a year, on an average. You cannot depend on makeshift refrigeration at any time of year!

BUY NOW AND YOU CAN SAVE $50 this winter

Frigidaire owners report average savings of $10.98 a month with Frigidaire. They save money by eliminating food losses, by reducing refrigeration costs, and by being able to take advantage of bargain specials and money-saving quantity prices. Such savings pay for Frigidaire and pay a profit besides!

Scouts Field Meet Planned On October 30

Annual Fall Event Of Scouters Will Be Held At George Washington School

TROOP TEAMS TO ENTER CONTEST

One of the highlights in the scouting program for this year will be the annual fall field meet, scheduled this year for October 30, at 1:30 p. m., at the George Washington junior high school field. Events at the meet are open to all active registered scouts in the Lawrence County Council who have not reached their 18th birthday by that day.

Most active boys from each troop are selected and formed into a field meet team. These teams will meet at the field meet and vie with each other for high honors.

Events which will be a part of the program include: Tent pitching, in which a team of two scouts will erect a standard pup tent within a given length of time. The winning team will be that one which has the tent correctly erected first.

The second event will be a contest to build a fire by flint and steel. The scout who starts a blaze in this primitive manner first, will be adjudged the winner, and credit will be given his troop.

Third in line is the semaphore signalling event. In this four scouts take part and send and receive messages with the semaphore system. Team being the most accurate will be adjudged the winner.

Fireman's carry relay is the fourth event of the meet, and consists of a team of eight scouts. In this event the teams pick up and carry a scout who is lying on ground and carry him for 25 feet using the fireman's carry. This is repeated until all of the scouts take part, and the team completing the task first is adjudged the winner.

Open individual knot tying contest is next on the program. This is open to scouts of all ranks. The scouts are required to tie certain knots according to the Boy Scout style.

Unusual as it may seem, the next contest is the waterboiling contest. Two scouts are on each team. Teams are required to build a fire and boil a pail of water. If the water is spilled or the team fails to make the fire with two matches, that team is disqualified.

International Morse signalling is next on the program, and the teams are of four scouts. The teams send and receive messages using the Morse code. Team with correct message gets winning credit.

Fire by friction is the closing event of the field meet. For this event the teams are made up of only one scout. The scouts provide their own fire sets and upon a signal go to work making fire by friction. Scout who gets a flame first wins the event for his troop.

In judging, points will be awarded for first, second, third, fourth and fifth places in each event. The troop having the greatest number of points will be classed as the winner of the field meet.

For Safety's sake PAVE THE GAPS WITH Concrete

Why do state highway departments warn the public: "Concrete pavement ends"?

Because it is universally accepted that speeds which are reasonable and safe on concrete become dangerous on other surfaces.

To save lives, to prevent accidents . . . demand concrete all the way.

True and even, it has no high crown—is usable to its full width. Brakes are at their best on its gritty non-skid surface. Its light gray color and sharply defined edges give high visibility at night. Any car is a better car on concrete.

And concrete saves money for motorists and for taxpayers. Insist on concrete for your roads.

FAT WOMEN SMOTHER IN TIGHT GIRDLES

Tight girdles and stiff foundation garments actually make many women look fatter. Instead of squeezing your fat, why don't you try to get rid of it? Why not have a slim, lovely, youthful figure that needs but little girdle control?

Thousands of overweight women have found that the Marmola way is the easy way to get rid of ugly fat. Just take 4 Marmola Prescription Tablets each day, and in place of starchy foods like potatoes and pastries, eat more salads, fruits, green vegetables, and go slow on fatty meats. That's simple, isn't it? Yet what a difference Marmola and this little change in your diet may make in your weight. Losses of 5 to 8 pounds a week have been reported in many cases from this simple, easy method of reducing. Marmola Prescription Tablets contain the same element prescribed by many doctors in treating their fat patients. Get a box at your druggist today and send that ugly fat on its way.

Girl Ready To Relate Story

Margaret Drennan, 20, Will Tell Why She Shot And Killed Married Lover

IS ABOUT TO BECOME MOTHER

MARGARET DRENNAN

(International News Service)

NEW BRUNSWICK, N. J., Oct. 21.—Bracing her nerves following her brief collapse in court yesterday, Margaret Drennan was to take the stand today as the last witness in her trial for the murder of Paul Reeves, her married admirer.

The 20-year-old secretarial student, who says she is to become the mother of Reeves' child, was to explain her relationship with the 25-year-old mill worker and relate the events that led to his slaying in his Iselin, N. J., home on September 7.

The girl claims she made the visit reluctantly, to discuss her problem of approaching motherhood with Reeves. The prosecution asserts she came to the tryst willingly.

Rumor Discounted

Prosecutor Charles Morris wound up the state's case without seeking to introduce any one of three separate confessions Miss Drennan made before trial, according to detectives. But her parents stunned the prosecution by testifying she admitted the killing to them.

Morris intimated he may still use the girl's "confessions" in rebuttal.

A report that Myra Reeves, beautiful 24-year-old widow of the slain man and mother of his two children, might come to Margaret's aid as a defense witness was generally discounted.

Church League Meets Tonight

The managers or representatives of the various New Castle churches intending to enter the New Castle Church basketball league this winter, will have an important meeting at the "Y" tonight at 7:30 o'clock, it was announced by league supervisor Henry MacNicholas.

SEVENTH WARD NEWS

Underground Wire System Is Being Rebuilt In Ward

Power Company Workmen Near Completion Of Work Today On Ward Lights

Power company workmen were today nearing completion of the task of repairing the street lighting system in the Seventh Ward. Trouble developed several days ago in the underground wiring system which brings current to the lights on Liberty street.

Workmen put up a temporary wiring system overhead, and were busy Wednesday afternoon, replacing portions of the underground system of wires. New pipe wire carriers were being put in place and new wire installed.

When the work underground is completed, the temporary wires installed overhead will be removed. Many times Wednesday afternoon the street lights in all sections of the ward were lighted as the workmen tested the various circuits.

Seventh Ward Civic Club To Meet Friday

Will Make Plans For Hallowe'en Celebration In Mahoningtown District

Friday morning at 9 o'clock members of the Seventh Ward Civic club will meet in the store of Robert Larnes on North Liberty street.

At this session plans will be made for a Hallowe'en celebration in the ward. Included in this celebration will be a mummers' parade and an active program of entertainment.

The meeting Friday will be in charge of the president, George Horchler, and committees for this celebration will be appointed to work out the various details.

White Eagles Have Meeting

Girl Scouts of the White Eagle Troop 19, held a regular weekly meeting at 6:30 o'clock in the madison avenue Christian church, on Tuesday evening.

During the meeting, the girls played games, which were followed later by patrol meetings. Plans were made for the annual Hallowe'en party, which will be held at St. Margaret's church on October 26.

The girls sang taps to close the meeting.

Scribe, Delphia Tommelleo.

Society Plans Dinner-Meeting

Members of St. Margaret's Society have planned a dinner-meeting for Saturday, October 23. The dinner will be served at 7 p. m. in the society hall on South Liberty street.

Plans will be formulated for the annual Hallowe'en party of the society to be held in the hall on October 30.

Apple Butter Is Made Wednesday By McCoy Class

Cold Weather And Rain Fail To Halt Annual Event Of Sunday School Class

Despite the cold and windy weather, and the slight rain spells, Wednesday, members of the McCoy Bible class of the Mahoning Methodist church, gathered behind the church and held their annual apple butter making event.

During the afternoon five huge kettles of butter were being tended by members of the class. When completed the class hopes to have 100 or more gallons of delicious rich apple butter.

Night School Attracts Crowd

Attracting considerable attention are the night school classes held nightly in the Mahoning school. The classes start at 5:30 and terminate at 9 o'clock.

The classes are taught by instructors selected by the education and recreation division of the WPA.

Strike Trouble Brings Total Of $5,000 In Fines

Ninety-Seven Members Are Fined For Strike Troubles In Ohio

(International News Service)

YOUNGSTOWN, O., Oct. 21.—In a settlement reached after a series of conferences, the Steel Workers Organizing committee today agreed to pay a total of $5,000 in fines for 97 members who pleaded guilty to charges growing out of steel strike violence here and in neighboring cities.

The sentences were imposed by Judge Fred H. Wolfe, of Wauseon, O., after he conferred with Mahoning county prosecutor William Ambrose and attorneys for the S. W. O. C. Two indictments were nolled, but 97 defendants, through their attorneys, pleaded guilty and were assessed fines.

No prison sentences were imposed by Judge Wolfe, who was called here to preside at the trials.

Heaviest fines were assessed against Robert H. Burke, 25, charged with inciting to riot, and John (Shorty) Stevenscon, Jr., charged with destruction of property. Former C. I. O. organizers, each was fined $300, and given a suspended 30-day prison sentence.

Mission Activities Make Building Hum

Today will be a rush day at the City Rescue Mission, beginning in the afternoon, with the women's class in charge of Mrs. Archie Gibson. Sewing and remaking of clothes for the needy will be planned. At 6:00 there will be a supper for the girls with the Bible class at 6:45. In the evening at 8:00 Rev. Richard Owrey of the Peoples Mission will speak and special music by the young people of the People's Mission. Superintendent Gibson has planned a special meeting for Sunday night when Rev. J. C. Fulton and wife of the Plaingrove United Presbyterian church will be in charge of the service along with the young people. A night of music is being planned by the young folks under the direction of Clyde Adams.

Man Purporting To Represent Credit Exchange Solicits Collection Accounts

Report has been received by Ray F. Hall, manager of the New Castle Credit Exchange, that a man stating his address to be 200 North Mercer street, is soliciting collection accounts, purportedly for the Credit Exchange.

Mr. Hall stated this morning that no such person is employed by the Credit Exchange in their collection department, and that there is no such address as 200 North Mercer street.

H. E. Carson is manager of the collection department of the exchange, and the collectors are Ralph Mayers and T. E. McKee. Any other persons representing themselves as engaged in soliciting accounts for collection are imposters, Mr. Hall states.

'Y' Gym Gets New Non-Glare Lights

Badminton and basketball players at the Y. M. C. A. are giving thanks this week—thanks for the new non-glare lights installed in the "Y" gymnasium in the place of old-type glare lights which heretofore have blinded players in competition.

Activities Director Henry T. MacNicholas said the lights are especially designed for gyms.

Auto Thief Taken To Huntingdon

Chester Tomski was taken to Huntingdon Industrial school this morning by Deputy Sheriff Ben Hartland. Tomski is the young man who had a meteoric career in stealing automobiles until he was captured by Deputy Sheriff Elmer Taylor.

John Daugherty and Frank Tomski were taken to the Allegheny county workhouse, the former to serve a three months term on a violation of the motor code and the latter to serve eight months on an illegal liquor making charge.

I was ashamed to go to the Doctor!

Little did I realize that most women who have children, suffer from piles (hemorrhoids). My pain became so acute that I was frantic. I couldn't walk, I couldn't sleep, I couldn't sit down. Finally I went to my doctor. He told me that I had hemorrhoids, and recommended a suppository to be used privately at home.

If you suffer as I did, let me recommend that you get a $1.00 box of ZIRIL suppositories containing 12 treatments. This wonderful prescription relieves the agony and torture within a few seconds. No narcotics or harmful drugs, easy to use. Can be depended upon to give you quick comforting relief from pain.

P.S. ZIRIL also comes as an ointment for the relief of itching, minor bleeding and burning of external or protruding piles.

ZIRIL Suppositories and ZIRIL Ointment are sold by all druggists.

Soviet Spies Are Executed

More Than 1,000 Have Been Put To Death In Past Few Months, Is Report

(International News Service)

MOSCOW, Oct. 21.—Total of mass executions in Soviet Russia during the past few months neared the thousand mark today as the Bolshevist regime intensified its drive against spies and wreckers.

Coincident with shooting of 45 additional spies at Irkutsk in Siberia, there were increasing indications the government's campaign is now being directed almost exclusively against individuals suspected of espionage on behalf of Japan.

In the past, the majority of persons to suffer the extreme penalty at the hands of Soviet firing squads have been identified loosely as "spies, wreckers, counter-revolutionaries, Trotskyists" and in some cases, merely as "hoodlums."

Many Executed

During the last few weeks, however, particularly in the far eastern districts of the Soviet Union, the defendants have been accused and convicted of actual espionage on behalf of a foreign power, identified in most cases as Japan.

Less than two weeks ago, 54 persons were shot at Ulan Uday, capital of the Buryat-Mongolian Soviet republic. Today's crop included not only the 45 executed at Irkutsk but ten more sentenced to death in the Black Sea region and three others doomed in far eastern Siberia on wrecking charges.

Testimony introduced at recent trials disclosed alleged plans by Germany and Japan for an invasion of the Soviet Union, abandoned in favor of Nippon's onslaught against China.

REAL ESTATE TRANSFERS

Cecil C. Johnston to Warren R. Grocott, Ellwood City, $650.

William N. Robinson to Frank P. Locke, Union township, $1.

Emma M. Nickel to Vincent E. Rape, First ward, $1.

W. S. Reynolds, by sheriff, to A. Herman Seigle, Third ward, $50.

Emma Stevenson to Louis Stevenson, Plaingrove, $1.

Harry D. Dague to G. M. Payne, Seventh ward, $1.

Raymond P. Thompson to Margaret Cline, Plaingrove township, $1.

The Pittsburgh Company to W. C. Brophy, Ellwood City, $250.

Judge W. Walter Braham has appointed Attorney James E. Chambers judge of election in the seventh precinct of the Second ward. The vacancy occurred by reason of the removal of Attorney Kenneth McLure from the district. Due notice was given of the intended appointment, as now required.

Sheriff Edward D. Pritchard has served papers in a summons in trespass filed at the prothonotary's office by Frank D. Taylor against Michael Zuzow. The statement of claim has not yet been filed.

The county commissioners are in receipt of a bill of fare for jail prisoners, prepared by the Department of Welfare at Harrisburg. The menus suggested are fully up to the fare in the average home. The sheriff here is given thirty cents per day to feed each prisoner and usually prepares his menus without any help from Harrisburg.

Three resignations of election judges have been presented to the court. They are H. E. Gilkeson, judge in the second district of Pulaski township; Marion Cumo, judge in the third district of the Fourth ward, and Ben Ciccone, judge in the second district of the Eighth ward. Judge Braham has directed Sheriff Pritchard to post notices that appointments to fill the vacancies will be made on October 30.

Janitor Clifford James cut his finger while sawing a board. The wound became infected and has been giving considerable trouble, but it is believed that the infection has been stopped.

Will of the late John DePaul, of Ellwood City, has been admitted to probate at the office of Register and Recorder William R. Hanna. Decedent left all of his property to his mother, Mary E. De Paul. Attorney Joseph W. Humphrey was named as executor.

Next Saturday is the last day on which voters who have moved from one address to another in the same precinct, can make the change known at the registration bureau, according to Registration Clerk Thomas Edmunds. Those who fail to register their present address, even if they have only moved across a street, will not be able to vote at the November election. As stated above this applies only to persons who are still residents of the precinct in which they are registered.

Jamestown Boy Being Hunted

Timothy Michael Heer, 3, Has Been Missing From Home Since Tuesday

MOTHER FEARFUL OF KIDNAPING

(International News Service)

JAMESTOWN, N. Y., Oct. 21—Out over the countryside today rolled the shaking tearful voice of a woman—"Tim, Tim—come home to mother!" Hills echoed and re-echoed the amplified plea of heart-broken Mrs. Leo J. Heer as the strange search for missing three year old Timothy Michael Heer continued today.

Tuesday Tim vanished from home. One minute he was there—the next he was gone, leaving no trace, no clue.

Police began the search with usual methods, made inquiries, poked and pried into places where a small boy might have wandered.

"Oh, I'm sure he would come home if he could hear my voice," said Mrs. Heer and so the police, without abandoning the usual methods or search, added the unusual.

Fear Kidnoping

A police car, an amplyfying horn mounted on the roof and with Mrs. Heer as passenger slowly cruised the country roads. At intervals Mrs. Heer with trembling hands picked up a microphone and called:

"Tim, Tim—can you hear me Tim- Tim—come home to mother."

But only the silence of the country answered her.

Members of the local Legion Post, Boy Scouts, police and firemen have thoroughly covered the vicinity, A number of suspected degenerates have been questioned and Lake Chautauqua is being dragged but still there is no sign of three year old Tim.

Tim's father, secretary of the Jamestown Furniture market association said he has no reason to believe that the boy was kidnaped but a mother who has yet to hear "Yes, mother—here I am," is fearful.

Margiotti Must Make Decision

(International News Service)

HARRISBURG, Oct. 21—Attorney General Chas. J. Margiotti deferred until today when he will go to Pittsburgh with assistant district Attorney General Langfitt of Allegheny county, a decision on "what to do" about the remaining Uniontown "third degree" murder cases.

Margiotti and Langfitt, who was here yesterday during sessions of the state pardon board of which the attorney general is a member conferred last night but reached no decision.

Margiotti said he would accompany Langfitt to Pittsburgh today where a decision probably will be announced on whether to continue prosecution of the Fayette county cases, and if so, where.

Albino Deer May Not Survive Hurts

More extensive injuries than were first thought to have occurred may mean the death of the albino deer caught on the farm of R. B. Cowher, on Wednesday. Deputy Game Protector James McClure went to the farm Wednesday night and found the rare deer in a stupor and it is feared that it was seriously injured when it ran into a farm wagon.

Game protector Frank L. Coen is in Oil City but will be home tonight. When he gets home he will decide what is to be done with the deer.

Union Surprises; Tops Zelienople

Blue And White Clad Eleven Records Startling 7-0 Victory, Wednesday

GUINAUGH SCORES LONE TOUCHDOWN

Game Played On Slippery Field; Locals Lose Several Scoring Chances

After several golden opportunities to score went sailing along with the powerful October wind, in the first half of play, a stubborn Blue and White clad gridiron machine of Union township high school once more surprised the grid world by eking out a 7-0 triumph over a big Zelienople eleven. The battle was played Wednesday afternoon on the slippery Union high field.

The Unionites struck with the velocity of lightning in the first two minutes of play, despite a severe hail storm which sent the several hundred spectators scurrying for protection. Zelienople was unable to gain following the kick-off and Andy Bagamary stepped back to kick. He was unable to boot and Sniezek fell on the oval. Smith did a nice piece of dodging, reaching the two-yard stripe before being nailed. Guinaugh fumbled and Zelienople recovered, spoiling the Scotland Laners' first scoring chance.

The visitors quickly booted to mid-field. Guinaugh heaved a straight pass to Smith who zigzagged his way to the Zelienople 40. Smith fought his way through left end, halting on the 30. Guinaugh splashed the line and fell on the 25. Jaskolka was stopped as the quarter ended.

Union Threatens

The Unionites sent the stands wild as Smith caught Guinaugh's pass on the 11. Guinaugh skirted his way to the 3, only to see Union get a 15-yard penalty. However, Smith again placed the Union club within the shadow of the goal line, reversing his field and going to the 4. On the fourth down Guinaugh passed to Morrison in the end zone. The ball slithered out of the waiting hands of the Union end, halting the second scoring threat. Bagamary, instead of kicking, passed to Sutch, who returned to mid-field. After one play the half ended.

Union Scores

A sustained drive in the third period gave the Coach Patterson hopefuls their touchdown. Smith heaved out a pass which was deflected by a Zelienople man and landed into the arms of Fulton who raced to the 45, fumbled but recovered. Smith broke through for five more yards followed by Duck Guinaugh who continued to electrify the stands by scooting his way to the Zelienople 31. Union drew a five yard penalty, but Guinaugh picked up six on the next play. With the ball resting on the 32, Guinaugh fought off several sturdy Zelienople gridders and was finally halted on the 21. Smith and Jaskolka combined their efforts to bring the hog-hide to the 14, Smith picking up six yards.

Guinaugh was stopped in an attempt to crash through the center of the line. He took the ball on the following play and moved his way to the 9. John Smith shot his way through center to the 2. From this point Guinaugh climaxed the steady drive by crossing over the goal line. Instead of place-kicking, Smith scooted around left end for the extra point. The quarter ended a few seconds after the lone score.

Zelienople Rallies

The Zelienople team rallied in the fourth, pushing the ball to the Union 28, only to lose it when Jaskolka intercepted a pass. Druschel and Bagamary combined their efforts to place their team mates in scoring position. After Jaskolka grabbed the slippery ball, Guinaugh was almost loose for a touchdown, but was halted on the Zelienople 21. A lateral, Annarella to Smith, gave the Union lads the ball on the 16. Annarella lobbed a pass to Guinaugh on the 11. Here Union drew another 15-yard penalty. Jaskolka raced from the 21 to the 3, but another penalty was in order and so another scoring threat stopped.

Union was impressive, considering the fact that the field was like a cake of coap. The wind was extremely heavy, marring the passing and kicking attack of both teams. This lad Ducky Guinaugh was the outstanding gridder on the field. He looked like a pony express as he raced up and down the field for substantial gains. Smith also played stellar ball. The Union line comes in for its share of praise. Despite the fact that they were outweighed, the Union wall was like Boulder Dam, never giving an inch.

The Zelienople lads had a couple of fair young men on the field. A. Bagamary was brilliant throughout, as was Druschel, a hefty fullback number. On October 29, Union travels to Beaver.

The lineup:

Union 7.		Zelienople 0.
Morrison	L.E.	F. Bagamary
Fulton	L.T.	Robinson
Neal	L.G.	Kati
Bentley	C.	Beahm
Sniezek	R.G.	Hall

Wisconsin And Pitt Game To Be Headliner

Dartmouth Meets Harvard, Yale And Cornell To Battle On Saturday

NOTRE DAME TO ENGAGE NAVY

By LAWTON CARVER
International News Service Sports Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—Collegiate football teams hit the half-way mark of the season Saturday with only a comparative handful of major elevens still undefeated and untied, and with the ranks of these elite expected to be further depleted.

Leaders in nearly all sections will face stern opposition.

Eastern standard-bearers are Dartmouth, Syracuse, Holy Cross, Yale and George Washington, all unbeaten and untied. Dartmouth meets a tough foe in Harvard, Yale is expected to get at least a thorough test from Cornell, Syracuse goes against Maryland, Holy Cross draws Western Maryland and George Washington tackles its most formidable foe of the season to date in Alabama, which also has a perfect record.

Pitt Vs. Wisconsin

Other leading contests in the east will find Fordham against Texas Christian, Pitt against Wisconsin, one of the undefeated and untied midwestern contenders, and Navy against Notre Dame.

Northwestern and Detroit, which with Wisconsin lead the midwest, both draw tough assignments, the former taking on Ohio State and Detroit meeting Boston College. Nebraska—tied once, meets Missouri, while Minnesota's powerhouse, beaten once, draws an open date.

Louisiana Vs. Vanderbilt

Louisiana State, unbeaten, untied and unscored on, and Vanderbilt, undefeated and undeadlocked, headline in the southern feature.

The Louisiana State-Vanderbilt tussel, in fact, will rank as one of the major contests of the day and overshadow everything in its own section, which also will find Tulane meeting North Carolina and Auburn taking on Georgia Tech. Tulane, North Carolina and Auburn are undefeated but tied, while Georgia Tech has lost one by a single point. Duke, a one-time-tied team, comes north to meet Colgate.

Baylor Unbeaten

Baylor, the southwest's only major unbeaten and untied eleven, tackles Texas A. and M., only other southwestern eleven which has not suffered defeat. The latter's record has been marred by one deadlock.

In the Rocky Mountain section, Colorado takes its perfect record against Colorado Aggies and Montana's clean slate will go into moth balls for one week of idleness.

In the far west, California's Golden Bears, sectional leaders with five straight victories, meet Southern California, which has lost one. Santa Clara goes against Loyola of Los Angeles to protect another unmarred record.

Tin City Club Going To Camp

Party Will Leave Over Week End To Get Hunting Camp In Shape

The Tin City Hunting club composed of Harry Cranmer, Layle Christy, James McCormick, E. O. Raney, Don Freeman, Bob Fleming, Jum Boalick, James Cypher and Friz Fraser are making a trip to their Cameron county hunting lodge this week end to get the camp in shape for the coming hunting season.

All members will be in camp the week of November 15th to hunt for bear, also all members will be there for the 'buck' season The club is on record that no does will be hunted and no shooting of same permitted on their property.

Edwin O. Raney and James McCormick will be in camp in the small game season for grouse hunting and to make what arrangements are necessary for the handling of the camp.

It is possible that W. P. Lohrman, master mechanic, who has hunted bear all over the west will join the club during the big game season. Dr. Earl F. Eakin secured his bear two years ago just a short distance from the Tin City camp and will again be there probably supported by Bill Klee and Dr. Byrl Rodgers. (The word support don't sound just right), that is while you're hunting.

FANNIN ELEVEN MEET TONIGHT

The Fannin football team of the South Side will have a practice session at Gaston Park field at 5 o'clock tonight, it was announced by David Guido, manager of the team.

The game with the Catholic A. C. for Sunday has been postponed by the Catholics. The Fannins instead will go to Struthers, O., to meet the Struthers Wildcats. The game will be played at Greys field at 3 o'clock.

Why Hammond, Ind. High Was Scheduled

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner of senior high school takes his typewriter in hand today to give out some information concerning why the New Castle high "Red Hurricane" has scheduled Hammond, Ind., high for a Saturday game here on November 6.

Considerable discussion has been created by the game here in two weeks, and for that reason Mr. Gardner today submitted the inside dope on why and wherefor.

The Explanation.

New Castle fans may wonder why Hammond was scheduled for a football game at New Castle and why a team that distance from home was considered.

To answer the second question first, the council felt that New Castle people would like occasionally to have us bring to New Castle an outstanding team from some other state that they might see what their football teams look like and what kind of football they play. The council also felt that playing teams from cities comparable to New Castle was an excellent way to advertise New Castle and the competing city.

In reply to the first question, athletic authorities of the senior high school received a letter of inquiry from R. J. Wilson, faculty manager of Hammond high school. Mr. Wilson is an alumnus of Westminster college and was familiar with our equipment at Taggart stadium, the interest which New Castle fans manifest toward their high school football teams, and the type of football they played. He thinks that Hammond plays a type of football comparable to what is played in New Castle, and that a game between the respective high schools of these two cities would make an interesting game.

Worthy Venture.

The local athletic authorities of the high school made what they considered proper investigation of Hammond high school and felt as the results of their investigating, that such a game would be a worthy venture, and as a result, the athletic council authorized the scheduling of the game.

Because of the expense of bringing Hammond here, it was necessary to increase the price of admission for the concrete stands and the steel bleachers to $1. This means that other bleacher seats will be 50c and that the price for students will remain at 25c and 10c for children under 12 years of age.

From time to time, interesting information regarding the city of Hammond, its high school team, and its football record will be published throughout the columns of The News. Already much favorable publicity has been published at Hammond, and as a result, it is believed that splendid publicity for both cities will result from the scheduling of this game.

If New Castle fans wish the council to continue the bringing of outside teams to New Castle they can voice their approval by the manner in which they support this game.

Also remember that the athletic council will turn over 50 per cent of the total net receipts to the music council to help defray the cost of the new uniforms.

No Outstanding Team In State

Lafayette And Juniati Only Unbeaten Or Untied Teams In State

By DICK SHANER
International News Service Sports Writer

PITTSBURGH, Oct. 21—With the 1937 football campaign slightly better than well underway, the ranks of Pennsylvania's undefeated and untied grid machines were materially reduced today, the dreams of many for perfect records shattered by early season upsets, a survey of the 20 leading colleges in the Keystone state showed.

Of the score of colleges selected as the criterion of Pennsylvania's gridiron principals, only two remained in the ranks of perfection—Lafayette of Easton and Juniata of Huntingdon. Six others, including three of the most outstanding institutions in the state—Pitt, Temple, Villanova, Albright, Lock Haven and Dickinson—have yet to be bowled over by an opponent but each has been stalemated in one or more games by ties.

Dukes Out Of Race.

A handful of others, including Duquesne's Night Raiders and Penn State's Nittany Lions, have lost but one game—just enough to shunt them out of the class of the so-far invincibles.

Lafayette thumped Upsala 33-0 in its opener, eked out a scant 2-0 win over Gettysburg the following week and dumped Georgetown 6-0 last Saturday to keep its slate clean while Juniata raised its curtain with a short 6-0 victory over Washington college, followed by a 6-0 triumph over Hartwick (N. Y.) and a 13-6 margin over Grove City to stay at the head of the class.

The mighty Pitt Panther, touted as a possible delegate to the Rose Bowl for the second consecutive year, fumbled its way into a disappointing scoreless knot with Fordham last Saturday, greasing the skids for a hasty exit from the undefeated-untied clan.

Larry Kelly To Play Pro Football

Former Famous Yale End Will Play With Boston Shamrocks Rest Of Season

(International News Service)

BOSTON, Oct. 21.—Larry Kelley, Yale's All-American football captain last year, has turned professional and will play with the Boston Shamrocks for the remainder of the seasor it was announced Wednesday.

Kelley, now a teacher at Peddie in Hightstown, N. J., will commute for the games, and will not practice during the week. He will play against Pittsburgh Sunday.

Kelley, while still an undergraduate, was reputed to have rejected a $12,000 offer to become a member of the Detroit Lions. No mention of Kelley's salary was made today.

Ralph Flanagan of Miami led selections of A. A. U. All-American swimming, diving and water polo team for 1937.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

Ralph Flanagan of Miami, snared a lot of the limelight in the selection of the All-American swimming, diving and water polo team for 1937, according to the decisions of the Amateur Athletic union's aquatic committee. The national free style champion, was named for the 440, 500, 580, 1,500 meters and mile events and was selected as captain. John Higgins of Olneyville, Mass., breast stroke star; Adolph Kiefer, of Chicago, backstroke champion and Peter Fick of New York, sprint ace, are the only two other swimmers named for individual events.

Geneva College will have its annual home-coming engagement on Saturday, October 23, with Davis-Elkins. This year the feature of that game is going to be a celebration of Geneva's victory over Harvard in 1926. Many of the men who played on that team will be present and some of them will speak at the home-coming banquet which will take place following the game.

Because Somerset farmers applications for doe licenses were rejected at Harrisburg with the explanation "quota filled," farmers in that densely-wooded section, have organized to bar sportsmen from other counties during the special open season on doe, according to the Somerset American. The American said that signs would be posted on virtually all land except the 4,000 acre state forest property. "We have fed the doe here when the snows were deep. Now the state wants to deny us the privilege of hunting these does. If we can't hunt our own nobody else shall" the American quoted the farmers as saying.

George Conway, trainer of War Admiral, king of the 3-year-olds, stated at Laurel, Md., today that the colt would not run in the $7,500 added Maryland handicap Saturday. Conway said Sam D. Riddle, owner of War Admiral, advised him not to start the colt "under any conditions" in the mile and a quarter event. War Admiral has been out of racing since he split a hoof in winning the Belmont stakes four months ago. He previously had won the Derby and Preakness.

Dee End defeated five other shifty juveniles in a six furlongs event at Empire City track, L. I., yesterday. The consistent son of Reigh Count was ridden by Mike Saron while scoring by three lengths. The combination paid favorite players 2 to 1 and finished the distance on a muddy track in 1:10 4-5. Milk Punch was second, Baby's Breath was third and Encorse was fourth. Essjaytee and Warlaine were fifth and sixth.

Midget Football League To Meet

A meeting of the managers and officials of the Midget Football league will be held at the home of Ray Kelley tonight. The meeting will start at 7:30 o'clock.

All player lists must be turned in tonight. The franchise money is also due. The following teams are in the league: Hannas, Mortons, Croton All Stars, Roussos, Shenangos, Madcaps and Hoods.

Titans Prepare To Meet Geneva

College Game To Take Place At New Wilmington Saturday Afternoon

WESTMINSTER IS READY FOR CLASH

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Oct. 21.—With every injured squadman back in uniform except Harry DePaulis, 185-pound sophomore tackle, Coaches Washabaugh and Kelleher, sent his first two elevens through a long signal drill and dummy scrimmage today, in preparation for Saturday's game with the Geneva Covenanters, the Titans arch-opposition since 1889.

Valicenti and Shoup, Blue and White backs, out with injuries last week, and Bill Ruefle, rangy Pittsburgh freshman guard, donned pads this week, and brought Washabaugh's outfit up to its early season strength for the first time since the California Teachers game.

Aided by the postponement of the Slippery Rock game, the Titan coaching staff will throw the complete Westminster strength into the Geneva game, Saturday. During this week's drill, the Titans have been drilled continually for a smoother working attack and stronger offensive punch.

Not since 1929, when the Titans rode to a 21-0 win over Geneva, have the Blue and White gridders been able to enter the win column against the Beaver Falls gridders. Since that time, the Titans have not crossed the Geneva goal-line. With bad memories of a 51-0 defeat in Beaver Falls last year, the Titans will be out to try to break a seven-year streak of goose-eggs.

The game will be called at 2 o'clock on the Titan field.

Guardsmen Still On Duty At Track

(International News Service)

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Oct. 21.—Federal intervention was sought by both sides today in the bitter strife over the closing, enforced by national guardsmen, of Narragansett Park horse race track. The fourth day of the scheduled fall meeting passed without a single horse going to the post or a turnstile turning.

New Castle Hopes To Upset Warren

Locals Will Strive For Fourth Straight Victory Over Ohio Cousins

Warren Will Send Big Team Here, Game Starts Friday Night At 8 P. M.

New Castle high "Red Hurricane" football team will try to make it four straight over Warren, O., Harding high here Friday night. The task will be a tough one. The kickoff at 8 o'clock should find another big crowd in the stands. Warren will send a large delegation of fans here for the nocturnal battle.

Head Coach Phil Bridenbaugh is taking this Warren game most seriously. He put the "Canes" through a tough scrimmage session Wednesday afternoon. The varsity boys made some swell gains through the reserves using a new offensive attack. The reserves using Warren plays, had a hard time to get anywhere around the New Castle ends and through the tackles.

Aerial Battle

It may be another aerial engagement here Friday night. The game last week against Martins Ferry revealed New Castle to have a slick passing attack. There is a strong possibility that Bridenbaugh will have his charges tossing the hog-hide all over the field tomorrow evening. Warren also has a good passing attack and it may be a battle in the clouds.

There will not be any changes in the New Castle backfield. Yesterday "Bridy" had Gender, Sovesky Micaletti and Lauro as his first string ball-toting quartet. Mumeyak and Sowinski broke into the lineup occasionally. The line was the same as last week only that Kulnis and Piccutta alternated at the left guard post.

Changes Offense

Coach Pierre Hill, of Warren, thinks so much about the New Castle game that he has changed his offensive attack all the way around. He knows that Warren has been scouted by New Castle, just as New Castle has been scouted by Warren, and he figures to fool the Castles with a brand new offensive attack Friday night.

The Warren offensive drives center around Davis and Holmes. The Warren line is big and fast. The heaviest man on the line is Captain Brutz, who goes 215 pounds. He is a tackle.

Expect Big Crowd

There are quite a number of veterans on the Warren team this year. Among the holdovers are Totterdale, Canzonetta, Fetchko, Davis, Brutz, Wareham and Pacek.

Faculty Manager Ralph H. Gardner is making plans to handle a big crowd in event that the weatherman is kind and gives the boys a nice night. Warren asked for 1,500 tickets for the game. The Warren team will come here well supported.

Westminster Man One Of Coaches Of Hammond Team

(Special To The News)

NEW WILMINGTON, Pa., Oct. 21.—Assistant coach on the Hammond, Indiana, football team which meets New Castle on the Red and Black field, November 6, will be Robert J. Wilson, graduate of Westminster college, 1929.

In Westminster, Wilson was a member of Delta Phi Sigma fraternity and was active in intramural sports. He entered Westminster as a transfer from DePauw university, Greencastle, Ind.

Keystones Will Play Struthers

The Keystone A. C. football team will play at Struthers, O., on Sunday, it was announced by Rocco P. Viggiano today. Coaches Leonard and Perrett want the Keys to report for practice at Rosena field tonight and Friday.

Any player who does not report for practice tonight or Friday will not make the trip to Struthers. The Ohioans are rated quite highly in the Youngstown district and expect to upset the Keystones.

Epigram made 10 to 1 choice among 37 in next Wednesday's Cesarewitch stakes at Newmarket, Eng.

FROM ME TO YOU

By MESEEALL.

The Community Chest is going right along and if you have not been contacted, please come to the headquarters today . . . it really is a worthy cause and it should not be necessary for us to tell you more . . . don't forget.

If you are interested in Music and wish to help the Music Council . . . the boys responsible for the New Uniforms for the High School Band, then you should attend the meeting tonight at the Senior High School . . . plans will be laid tonight for Alumni Homecoming to be held November 6th. . . . read "Your Newspaper" for further details.

What are they going to do with the old Fire Bell down behind the Central Fire Station . . . should it be used or should it be sold to the Junk Man? . . . New Castle is not too large for a Fire Alarm or is it? . . . Ask your Councilman.

Here is something to think about A. F. of B. boys . . . maybe you will keep your distance . . . in spite of all warning we never do know when we are better off . . . and the fellows said . . . Times are certainly changing . . . a Chicago judge gives husband right to hit wife . . . if the Misses starts swinging.. The old timers say that it never used to be like that in the old days . . . what's the difference . . . they always get the last word and the last hit.

Flash . . . would like to see a game like this . . . the coach of American University football team has a girl extra-point and field goal kicker . . . we always did say that the weaker sex were better kickers than we men . . . but imagine what will happen if the opposing team rushes the kicker . . . milady is apt to get roughed up a wee bit . . . me thinks . . . what do you think.

The boys in the blue uniforms have been doing a fine piece of work on Croton Avenue . . . the motorist seems to be aware of their presence and have been cutting their speed . . . there is no sense of coming down Croton Hill like you were late for your accident . . . keep up the good work Winnie and George.

So Little Alfred Owens fell . . . congratulations.

LEGAL NOTICES

Legal Notice

Sealed bids will be received by the School District of the Borough of Ellwood City, Pennsylvania, at the office of the Secretary in the Lincoln High School Building until 7:30 o'clock P. M. November 11, 1937 for supplying approximately 700 tons of coal for the various school buildings of the school district, for the period from December 1, 1937 to April 1, 1938.

Prices are to be quoted and based upon per ton prices subject to the Bituminous Coal Act of 1937 and to all the exemptions and deductions therein for the sale of coal to the United States, States, and or to any political subdivision thereof for the use in the performance of essential Government functions.

Bids must be on bidding blanks furnished by the Secretary.

Specifications and bidding blanks may be secured at the office of the Secretary in the Lincoln High School Building. Bid to be enclosed in a sealed envelope and marked "Coal Bid".

The School District reserves the right to award the contract for coal as required, approximately 700 tons, as a whole, or in part, in multiples of 100 tons or more, or to reject any or all bids.

G. B. Hancher, Secretary.

Recovery Of Yesterday Is Being Extended In Day's Trading

By LESLIE GOULD
International News Service
Financial Writer

NEW YORK, Oct. 21.—The stock market soared one to more than two points in the leaders and as much as eight in special instances at the opening today, extending the spectacular recovery of yesterday, which ran to more than 10 points.

Gains were appreciably reduced, however, by later profit-taking. A number of representative shares fell below previous closing levels.

Trading continued heavy, with the ticker falling behind in the first hour. A total of 1,150,000 shares changed hands by 11 a. m. The ticker cleared after the slide back from early peak levels, which lasted until well into the second hour.

Motors, rails, farm implements, aviations and blue-chips were leaders on the opening advance. U. S. Steel, some rails and a number of blue-chips were among the stocks to slip under previous closing levels later.

Commodities were quieter today. Grains improved fractionally, while cotton gave up small opening gains in later dealings. Bonds were firm and moderately active.

Foreign markets displayed strength, particularly in American shares, reflecting the sharp recovery from the panic selling on Monday and Tuesday morning this week.

Ellwood Will Play At Farrell Tonight

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—When Ellwood City's high school football team lines up on the Farrell field this evening for a return game with the Mercer countians, there will be only one change in the original lineup that clicked so well in the early part of the season.

Newton, a second string quarterback, has been transferred to the fullback position on the first eleven and will be given a chance to display his ability.

Ellwood City supporters and Coaches Croft and Gills are highly pleased and encouraged by the fact that the team will be in the best physical condition that they have been since the opening game. Andy Fehl and Frank Blaine, ends, kept out by leg injuries; Nick Gib, guard, and Jack Snare, right half, and Frank Koalch, left half, have all completely recovered from injuries that kept them out of the major part of the Butler and Rochester games, greatly weakening the line and backfield, and have high hopes of upsetting the Farrell team tonight and hope to emulate New Brighton in stopping Midland at Lincoln field on Saturday afternoon.

Compelled to juggle his starting backfield in order to find a fellow for the blocking job, Coach Hank Day, Farrell high footballer's coach, in a game last Friday with Greenville high, discovered a star, Hugh McKinnis, husky colored lad, who filled in at fullback and walked away with individual laurels by scoring four of the five touchdowns, the last one on a 75-yard dash. Just as impressive is his brother, Everett McKinnis, left half. The fullback in Days' system has a very important assignment because he handles the ball on almost every play.

For the first time in its football history, Ellwood high plays two games this week, the Farrell contest tonight occurring through a schedule oversight. One thing in favor of the Wolverines is that owing to a teachers' convention at New Castle on Friday, there will be no school tomorrow and they will have one day's rest between the two hard battles.

Tomorrow afternoon Coach Harold Burry will take his junior high gridders to Butler for their fourth game of the month. They have been successful in decisively defeating Mahoning and George Washington junior high teams and held a powerful Aliquippa aggregation to a 7-0 score.

The lineup:

Ellwood		Farrell
Fehl	L.E.	G. Burich
Keller, c	L.T.	Pratt

Annual Jubilee Is Grand Success

Two Hundred Attend Celebration Held In First Presbyterian Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—The First Presbyterian church of this city was the scene of a most enjoyable gathering on Wednesday evening when the members held their annual October Jubilee and also celebrated the twenty-fifth anniversary of the dedication of their church.

More than two hundred attended and the events of the evening began with a fellowship hour at 5 o'clock. At 6 o'clock the group were seated at beautifully appointed long tables and served a most delicious dinner prepared by the women of the Bell Memorial church and served by the young ladies of the church.

For the program hour George B. Wilson, congregational chairman, presided after which the following impressive exercises were conducted: Memorial by Rev. A. M. Stevenson; cradle roll, Mrs. Herman Wilson; newlyweds, Mrs. J. F. Croft, and new members, H. W. Smith.

Very interesting talks were given by Rev. Eldred E. Crawford, of Glenshaw; Rev. William H. Leslie, of Niagara Falls, and Rev. Charles Z. Bell, of this city. Rev. Leslie is a former pastor of the church, serving from 1897 to 1904, and with his family drove here Wednesday to attend the festivities and his attendance was warmly welcomed by the assemblage.

Accompanied by Miss Marjorie Streeter, Mrs. H. E. Helling sang a beautiful solo. Mrs. Helling sang at the dedication services a quarter of a century ago.

Rev. F. E. Reber, associate pastor of the East Liberty Presbyterian church, and pastor of the local church at the time it was dedicated, was scheduled as the guest speaker, but was unable to attend owing to the sudden illness of his wife who underwent a major operation in a Pittsburgh hospital on Monday.

The outstanding event was a complete success in every detail and much credit is due Attorney J. W. Humphrey, who capably handled the general arrangements.

Mummers Party At Mackey Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Pumpkin faces, vari-colored leaves, black cats and ghosts, formed a perfect setting for the Hallowe'en masquerade party of the Ever Ready class of the Immanuel Reformed church held last evening at the home of Miss Violet May Mackey, of Fourth street.

Much fun followed the unmasking hour and lovely gifts were awarded to Miss Katherine Laiben, Miss Marion Mains and Mrs. Forrest Powell, the teacher, for the best impersonations.

After amusing games and contests, the hostess, aided by her mother, Mrs. James Mackey, served the guests appropriate refreshments.

Friday evening, November 12, marks the date of the next meting.

Pflugh-Kincaid Marriage News

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21—An announcement of a marriage of interest to many in this vicinity has been made and is that of Miss Clara Pflugh, daughter of Charles Pflugh, of North Sewickley township, to Harold Kincaid of Eleventh street, Beaver Falls.

The marriage ceremony was an event of Saturday, October 16, and took place in Moundsville, W. Va.

They are residing in Beaver Falls where the bridegroom is employed.

Surprise Honors Mrs. Maud Christie

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Mrs. Clyde Christie was delightfully surprised on Wednesday evening when a circle of friends gathered at her home on Hazel avenue to aid in celebrating the occasion of her birthday anniversary.

After best wishes had been extended, bridge, 500 and bingo occupied the leisure hours with prizes awarded to Mrs. Mary Stoner, Mrs. Thelma Yoho and Mrs. Bertha Gordon.

At a seasonable hour the tables were re-arranged and decorated with Hallowe'en appointments and the guests served a most tempting repast by Mrs. Charles Stewart and Miss Doris Christie, daughters of the honor guest.

Sharing the event were Mesdames George Miller, Thelma Yoho, Clifford Vinroe, Lewis Wagner, Ralph Thompson, May Stoner, George Wick, Annabell Stroup, Percy Houk, Bertha Gordon, Homer Christie, Edward Christie of Ellwood; Mrs. Sheridan Koach, Zelienople; Mrs. Lale Christie and Mrs. Harry Cramer of New Castle.

Mrs. Christie was presented with many lovely gifts as remembrances of the happy event.

Polyanna Members At Spruce Hill Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Polyanna club members motored to the Spruce Hill home of Mrs. Lewis Kistner on Wednesday for their October meeting which proved to be a most enjoyable event.

Aided by her daughter Carrie, the hostess seated the guests at a prettily arranged table where they partook of an appetizing dinner at 1 o'clock.

During the afternoon Mrs. John Stroehecker and Mrs. Reuben Reed conducted an amusing hour of games and contests with prizes awarded to the winners.

Mrs. Frank Potter will receive the group at her home in Line avenue, on Wednesday, November 17.

Miss Leona Chieze To Wed John Cowan

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Saturday, October 23, is the date that Miss Leona Chieze, daughter of Mrs. J. J. Chieze, of Belton, has chosen to become the bride of John Robert Cowan, son of Mrs. Emma Cowan, of Wayne avenue, and the late Joseph Cowan.

The wedding will take place at the bride's home at 10 o'clock in the presence of relatives and friends of the couple. Rev. Charles Bell, of the Ellwood-New Castle road, will perform the ceremony.

District Rally On Friday Night At Concord Church

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—On Friday evening the quarterly rally of district 7 of Beaver County Sunday School Association will be held at the Concord Methodist church beginning with a song service at 7:30 o'clock.

This district is comprised of the following local churches: Camp Run U. P., Hickory Knell Church of God, Knox and North Sewickley Presbyterian, Providence Baptist and Concord Methodist Sunday schools. A program appropriate for the occasion is being arranged by the executive committee.

Missionary Groups Meet At Knox Church

Presbyterial Stewardship Secretary, Mrs. Blackledge, Is Speaker

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—On Wednesday, members of the North Sewickley Presbyterian and Knox Presbyterian Missionary societies held their annual October combined meeting at the latter church. Thirty-five members of the two societies participated in the day's activities.

In the morning each group held separate business meetings planning their fall work and at 12 o'clock they partook of a sumptuous casserole dinner served by Mrs. Charles Hauserman and Miss May Elliott. Clever Hallow'en appointments added to the pleasure of the dinner hour.

Mrs. William Slade presided during the program hour with Mrs. Walter J. Blinn presenting the worship theme. Mrs. Blackledge, of New Brighton, presbyterial stewardship secretary, was the guest speaker and she left many thoughtful points with the group on the question of stewardship for individuals and organizations of the church.

For the November meetings the time and place will be announced.

Lilyville Church Plans Masquerade

Event To Take Place Tuesday Evening At The Edward Daufen Home

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21—On Tuesday evening, October 26, members of the St. Mark's Lutheran church of Lilyville will hold a Hallowe'en masquerade party at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Daufen, of the Ellwood-Zelienople road.

Arrangements for the event were made at the October meeting of the Women's Missionary society held on Wednesday at the home of Mrs. Fred Goehring, of near Fombell. Mrs. Edwin Herman and Mrs. Fred Moyer were special guests.

Aided by her daughters, Miss Virginia and Mrs. John Gabler, the hostess served an appetizing casserole dinner.

In the absence of the president, Rev. William Mitchell conducted a well-chosen devotional period.

For the next meeting on Wednesday, November 17, Mrs. Melissa Daufen invited the group to meet at her home near Lillyville.

Frisco To Meet Koppel On Sunday

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—At 2:30 p. m., on Sunday afternoon, the Frisco A. C. football team and the Koppel Buckeyes will settle a grudge battle when they meet at Ewing Park, Ellwood City, that should provide plenty of action for supporters of both teams. A record crowd is expected to witness the game.

These two teams have been at "odds" for sometime and this is a battle to end all the unfortunate mud-slinging of which both teams have been guilty.

Frisco's attack will center around Ken Marshall and Koppel's main threat will be Petti.

HOSPITAL NGTES

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21—Admitted: John Knauer, Zelienople. Discharged: Mrs. Harold Sumner and baby, of Spring avenue.

Funeral Rites For Mrs. Ellen Vosler

Services Held Wednesday Afternoon From The Home Of Joseph Vosler

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Funeral services for Mrs. Ellen Vosler, whose death occurred on Monday morning in the Ellwood City hospital, were held on Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 from the home of her son, Joseph Vosler on Line avenue.

Rev. Leslie Bell, pastor of the Plaingrove Presbyterian church, of which Mrs. Vosler was a faithful and active member, conducted the services.

A daughter of the late James and Hannah Smith Shields, she was born in Butler in 1865 and was 72 years of age. She is survived by one daughter, Mrs. Ira Cramer of Grove City; two sons, James L. of Slippery Rock and Joseph of Ellwood, and the following brothers: Harrison and Albert Shields of Slippery Rock, Samuel Shields of Milton, Ore., and Madison Shields of Mount Vernon, Wash.

Pallbearers were B. J. McCandless, Miles McCandless, Lewis Cramer, Everett Tillia, Carl McCandless and Floyd Shields. Interment was made in the Harlansburg cemetery.

Family Honors Caroline Pflugh

Eighty-Two Relatives Attend Eighty-Second Birthday Party

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21—Mrs. Caroline Pflugh, of the Concord road, was greatly pleased on Wednesday evening when her children, grand children and great-grand children assembled at her home in honor of the occasion of the 82nd birthday anniversary, which was an event of yesterday.

Incidentally the group numbered 82 coming from Zelienople, Beaver Falls and the Ellwood district.

Games, music and chat filled the hours in a pleasant manner. During the evening delectable refreshments were served the group by Mrs. L. N. Pflugh, Mrs. Lester Householder, Mrs. Nellie Wilson and Mrs. Amos Pflugh. A beautifully decorated birthday cake was a feature of the refreshment hour.

Mrs. Pflugh who is one of this district's most charming elderly residents, was delightfully pleased to be presented with an assortment of very lovely gifts, as mementoes of the occasion.

Local Merchants Attend Convention

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21—A number of local grocerymen have returned home from Cleveland, O., where they attended the eleventh annual convention of the Clover Farm stores held in the Carter hotel of that city.

Included in the group were: Ira P. West, J. V. McKelvey, Mr. and Mrs. Clair Fleeger, Mrs. Essie Eichholtz, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. West of Ellwood, George Herbert, of Wampum, Ernest Rodgers, of New Castle and the New Brighton office force. They fent to the convention in a group chartering a bus to make the trip. The total amount of delegates attending the convention numbered 300.

One of the principal speakers was U. S. Senator Royal S. Copeland, of New York, chairman of the Senate commerce committee. Many other notables brought interesting messages to the assemblage.

The Penn-Ohio division, which includes the local districts, were the winners of a contest conducted between the various divisions.

Ellwood Prepares For Big Hallowe'en

Expect Thousands To Take Part In Mummers Parade On October 29

(Special To The News)

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Ellwood boys and girls along with fathers and mothers will have an opportunity to really celebrate the Hallowe'en season in the correct way on Friday night, October 29. The merchants division of the Chamber of Commerce will offer very valuable prizes for every kind of costume from a ghost to a ballet dancer.

Last year the parade got out of line and due to that reason the judging was very difficult. The huge spectacle will form at the Pittsburgh Circle school and wend its way slowly down Spring avenue to Fifth street and up Fifth street to Lawrence avenue to the Runyan service station where it will countermarch back down Lawrence avenue to the judges' stand in front of the municipal building where the judges, consisting of Percy Lutton, Burgess Sitler, Francis Newman and Mrs. Hough, and aided by the Junior Kiwanis, will pick the various costume winners and present them with prize certificates.

The entire parade will be colorfully lighted by flares carried by the Hi-Y club of the high school.

To keep the parade in a lively step the Junior Veterans of Foreign Wars Bugle and Drum corps, Senior Legion Bugle and Drum corps and the high school band have offered their services for the evening.

To further enlighten the Hallowe'en activities the Chamber of Commerce is offering cash prizes for the best Hallowe'en trimmed windows in town. All the local merchants will take part in the contest which will be judged Thursday night, October 28. The judges for this contest are Wellington J. Ramsey, advertising manager of the Mathews Conveyor Co., Miss Louise Barton of the architectural department of the National Tube company and W. F. Kegel.

Mrs. C. A. McCurdy Pleasing Hostess

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21.—Mrs. C. A. McCurdy welcomed members of the L. W. L. club to her home on the Ellwood-New Brighton road, in a gracious manner Wednesday when they assembled for the usual meeting.

Mrs. William Coblentz, Mrs. Grace Milford and Mrs. Mary Myers were special guests.

After partaking of an appetizing dinner, bingo was the popular diversion of the afternoon with all the members winning prizes.

Mrs. Glenn Biggins will be hostess to the group on Wednesday afternoon, November 3, at her home on the New Brighton road.

Y. P. SOCIAL

ELLWOOD CITY, Oct. 21—This evening members of the Young People's Society of the Wurtemburg United Presbyterian church will hold a Halolwen's party in the Sunday school room for all the young people of the church.

Hundred Men Pushing Work On New Armory

Good Progress Is Being Made On Big Structure In Cascade Park

WPA workers who have been engaged in the erection of the new Joseph V. Cunningham armory in Cascade Park resumed operations on Wednesday following a three-day layoff due to the expiration of the pay period. Approximately 100 men are at work on the armory.

The work of pouring the concrete floor on the first floor of the administration unit is completed, as is the roof. The basement floor is not yet poured but will be shortly.

Decorative stone columns which flank the top wall above the main entrance are about completed, the steel window sash in the administration unit are in and within a short time the work of interior finish can be started in the administration unit.

Steel window sash for the stables has not yet arrived although it has been on order for some time. Stone work on this unit is up where no more can be done until the windows are in place.

The stone work on the riding hall is up about 14 feet and is about ready for the heavy steel girders to be put in place. Work is progressing steadily and it is hoped the building will be completed by the first of the year.

Plan Ingathering For New Castle Hospital, Oct. 25

Announcement was made this afternoon that the annual ingathering of fruits, vegetables, jellies, and canned goods for the New Castle hospital will be held the week of October 25.

In past years, the fruit shower has helped the institution tremendously. Sisters in charge of the hospital ask the citizenry of the city for their whole hearted co-operation in helping to make this year's ingathering a success. All donations, great or small will be deeply appreciated and gratefully received.

CITY TO BUY PIPE

Council met in the city hall today and authorized the city clerk to advertise for bids for pipes which will be laid in Cunningham avenue, preparatory to the paving of that thoroughfare between Lutton street and Long avenue. The request that bids be taken was made by Councilman Joseph D. Alexander.

In addition to receiving a prize of $20 for winning first place, her steer, weighing 900 pounds, brought 21 cents a pound on the hoof at the auction, conducted following the judging of awards.

Billy Byers of North Beaver township won tenth place and a prize of $4 for his pen of lambs.

The show was conducted for members of the 4-H clubs in eastern Ohio, western Pennsylvania and northern West Virginia.

Other entries from the district included Hannah Peebles, Jack Sankey and Elmer Hammerschmidt of the Scott-Plaingrove district, and Lyle Fox, Billy Byers, Billy Pitts and John Clark of North Beaver township, all of whom exhibited pens of lambs.

HUNTING CLUB TO MEET THIS EVENING

Members of the Good Fellows Hunting club will meet this evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph F. Davis, of Norwood avenue, when plans will be made for the coming hunting season.

We should be grateful to Japan. She is showing us what we'll get if we ever get tough without having enough planes to protect our cities.

Japan is good, but she can't equal Mussolini's bluff: "I'll start a war if you don't let me have the petroleum I need to make war."

Full Swing Back

An interesting study in dove gray and periwinkle blue is worn here by Lucille Ball, young picture player. The swagger coat is of rich gray duvetyn with a full swing back. Self-material cording outlines the high turned-down collar and broad cuffs of the three-quarter length bell sleeves. Under this coat Lucille wears a heavy silk crepe dress of contrasting blue which emphasizes pencil slim silhouette and features a high draped bodice, trimmed at the neck with self-cording. Gray accessories and an off-the-face hat complete the outfit.
